Support Union Takeover

DETROIT (AP) — Overwhelming support of the international union's takeover of a rebellious local in an Ohio General Motors plant was voted yesterday by United Auto Workers representing 132 bargaining units within the GM manufacturing empire.

The delegates, with only two dissenting, urged workers in the strike-beset parts plant at Mansfield, Ohio, to end wildcat work stoppages and stay on the job.

The leader of the rebellious faction, Frank Petty Jr., was asked by newsmen if the vote ended the wildcat strike, and he answered: "I guess it does."

He said he would attempt to prevent further wildcat work stoppages at the plant.

The vote came at an emergency session of the National General Motors Council of the UAW, summoned "to thoroughly discuss" the Mansfield situation, which holds the threat of idling 200,000 GM workers for a second time since Feb. 13.

The vote came only hours after GM raised the threat of discontinuing the Fisher Body factory at Mansfield as an important plant.

The plant makes parts for more than 90 per cent of GM's passenger cars and an eight-day strike which erupted Feb. 15 finally snowballed into layoffs of 196,000 workers in 95 GM plants across the country.

War Loss Record Set in Vietnam

By JOHN CANTWELL
SAIGON (AP) — Record American combat losses and record defections from bloodied Viet Cong ranks emphasized rising pressures in the Vietnam war last week, the U.S. Command disclosed yesterday. GIs sought fresh contact in 15 drives, one in the Mekong River delta.

The Americans, with their ranks now swelled to 417,400, suffered 1,617 casualties in action Feb. 26-March 4—232 dead, 1,381 wounded and four missing.

It was a week marked by many small skirmishes and a sharp increase in the enemy's use of mortars, particularly in the sector U.S. Marines guard below the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

Lt. Gen. Victor H. Krulak, commander of all U.S. Marines in the western Pacific area, told a news conference in Da Nang the war looks good from the allied side, but the possibility of a major Communist attack cannot be ruled out.

Three divisions of Hanoi regulars are reported massed above the demilitarized zone. U.S. Marines were heavily engaged last weekend with infiltrators who mortared their positions and sought vainly to knock out 175 mm guns which sell North Vietnamese targets across the demilitarized zone.

The American death toll last week was not the war's highest. A total of 240 were killed Nov. 14-20, 1965, the week of the Ia Drang Valley battle.

The record losses stemmed from an unusually high number of wounded, nearly seven men living through their injuries for every man killed. The normal ratio is about five to one. The previous high in American casualties was established two months ago—1,194 in the week of Jan. 8-14.

Losses among the other allies last week were lighter. South Vietnam's armed forces reported 199 men killed and 18 missing; the others, six dead and 25 wounded. The South Vietnamese do not list their wounded.

Against the allied toll, spokesmen said 1,736 Communists were killed and 1,168 switched sides under the Saigon government's open arms program.

The Red turncoats, numbering 60 more than in any previous week, brought defections this year to 6,357, compared to 3,845 in the same period of 1966.

The Communist dead were the equivalent of more than a regiment and uncounted thousands of others were obviously wounded. But far more were killed in the previous week, a record 2,449.

Man Bites Dog; That's News!

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Police arrested Thomas Hayalman yesterday for biting his dog and charged him with cruelty to an animal.

Police quoted the 27-year-old University of Cincinnati psychology graduate student as saying he bit the 7-month-old beagle puppy's left ear "as an act of discipline because I was mad." Hayalman also told police he was just about to leave on a trip when the puppy ran away from his house. Bernard Tigges, an SPCA field representative, said Hayalman chased the dog, bit her ear and then carried her back to the house by the tail and hind legs.

MISS MARTHA PEED

Teacher Questions Vietnam Policy

Miss Martha Peed of 430 Conewango ave. was one of 800 former Peace Corps volunteers who recently sent a letter on Vietnam policy to President Johnson.

The letter expressed concern over the effects of United States policy. It said in part, "We wonder if you are fully aware of the erosion of trust in our Government which that policy is causing among many Americans who, like us, want to believe in the high purpose and constructive world role of the United States."

Miss Peed, a teacher at Beatty Junior High School, last night declined to comment on the letter's contents and stated she had not signed the letter.

Senator William Fulbright (D-Ark.) inserted the letter in the Congressional Record Tuesday, by unanimous consent of the Senate. Miss Peed would not comment on why her name appeared on the list of 800 signatures following the letter.

Miss Peed left for Peace Corps service in Brazil Dec.

16, 1964. She returned to Warren last November, and has been teaching at Beatty since the beginning of the current semester.

A 1959 graduate of Warren High School and a 1963 graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, she taught college prep English and biology for a year in Hartford, Conn. Miss Peed and the group of Peace Corps workers to which she was assigned trained at Harvard Medical School and the Boston Lying-In Hospital for their work in Brazil.

Other signers of the letter included William J. Boerst of Jamestown, N.Y., Jeffrey Tener of Bemus Point, N.Y., and John B. Fisher of East Aurora, N.Y.

Sen. Fulbright described the letter as using "restrained and measured" language. It mentioned a "growing impression that the United States is unclear about its goals in Vietnam and is not facing realistically the alternatives available to it."

Two-Plane Collision Claims 26 Persons In Ohio Air Tragedy

By DONALD L. BANDY
URBANA, Ohio (AP) — A jet airliner exploded in flame after an accident with a light plane yesterday, killing 26 persons in the second crash in the same area in five days.

The Trans World Airlines DC9 with 21 passengers and a crew of four was just nine minutes from landing at Dayton, 30 miles southwest, when it plunged to the earth in flames.

The other plane, a twin-engine Beechcraft with a businessman pilot, fell to the ground two miles away.

The planes presumably collided, although no witnesses told of seeing any actual impact between them.

The Federal Aviation Agency said air traffic controllers working with the airliner had advised the pilot of "some unknown traffic" shortly before the plane vanished from radar.

Later, an FAA spokesman in Washington said there was no way to determine immediately whether the planes were known to be on a collision course prior to the crash.

"We have not even read the tapes (of the airliner's recorder) out yet, and we will not know for several hours," he said.

However, Rep. Clarence J. Brown Jr., R-Ohio, told a newsman in Washington that there were indications that the control tower radar showed the aircraft on a collision course. He declined to give the source of his information and would not elaborate.

Apparently neither pilot sounded any alarm.

The crash scene was about 45 miles south of the rural area between Kenton and Upper Sandusky where a Lake Central Airlines turbojet Convair 580 crashed Sunday, killing 38 persons.

Hours after the accident searchers still scoured the woods and gullies in search of bodies.

Francis H. McCaffery, who lives a quarter of a mile from the crash scene, heard his sister cry, "My God, it's a plane!" He looked out the door and saw the ship 75 feet above the house.

Bodies and wreckage were strewn over four square miles in the area about nine miles northwest of Urbana and witnesses said it appeared the plane had disintegrated.

The plane's light and voice recorders were found a few hours later.

The Civil Aeronautics Board sent another team of investigators to Urbana to seek the specific cause of this crash.

In Marion, another investigating crew still pieced together material from Sunday's accident.

The FBI ordered its disaster unit from Washington to the scene to help identify victims of the TWA crash.

The weather yesterday was clear and bright, in contrast to the snow and sleet Sunday night, when the Lake Central plane exploded out of the sky shortly after its pilot had radioed he was climbing 2,000 feet, to 10,000 feet, apparently because of weather.

Louisiana Probe Hears Witnesses

By JACK OWENS
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dean Andrews Jr., a lawyer who told the Warren Commission he thought Lee Harvey Oswald was a "patsy," testified briefly yesterday before a grand jury hearing evidence in the district attorney's investigation of the Kennedy assassination.

Andrews and Josephine Hug were the only two witnesses subpoenaed for yesterday's secret grand jury session. Mrs. Hug, a tall, well-dressed brunette, formerly worked for Clay Shaw, the retired executive accused by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison of conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy.

Garrison interrogated Andrews last week, after subpoenaing him to appear in the district attorney's office.

In testimony before the Warren Commission in 1964, Andrews who now is an assistant district attorney of suburban Jefferson Parish county, said: "There's three people I am going to find; one of them is the real guy that killed the president; the Mexican, and Clay Bertrand."

Asked then if he had considerable doubt about Oswald being the assassin, Andrews replied: "I know good and well he did not. With that weapon, he couldn't have been capable of making three controlled shots in that short time. This boy could have convinced the deal, but I think he is a patsy. Somebody else pulled the trigger."

Garrison said recently he didn't believe Oswald killed anybody in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963. The Warren Commission concluded that Oswald killed both Kennedy and Patrolman J. D. Tippit on that day.

Directors' Petitions On File

Only one Democrat has filed a petition to run for the post of school director in Region 3. He is Kenneth E. Lind, who seeks a six-year term.

Republicans seeking the nod as school directors are W. Scott Calderwood, four year term and Myron E. Jewell, six year term, both in Region 1 (Warren borough). In Region 2, Leonard A. Pearson is the candidate for the four-year term with Clinton R. Scott and Ellen F. Smith running for six-year terms.

Region 3 candidates on the Republican side are R. Krug Cyphert, four-year term and Henry S. Peterson, six years.

Columbus and Spring Creek district 1, 2 and 3, will also elect school directors. Petitions in Columbus have been filed by Republicans Bertha E. McCray and Herbert M. Heidler and Democrats Gerald A. Duet-schlander and Thaddeus J. Ponder.

Allen F. Borton, Republican, is running in the Spring Creek districts.

Region 2 is comprised of Cherry Grove, Conewango, Corydon, Elk, Glade, Mead, Pleasant, Sheffield and Watson townships with Clarendon borough. Region 3 embraces Brokenstraw, Deerfield, Eldred, Farmington, Freehold, Limestone, Pine Grove, Pittsfield, Sugar Grove and Triumphant townships, Bear Lake, Sugar Grove, Tidioute and Youngsville boroughs.

Citizens Blast Frewsburg School

Cruelty, negligence and the use of suggestive books were among charges brought by parents against Frewsburg Central School system Wednesday night.

More than 100 persons showed up at an unscheduled grievance hearing just before the regular meeting of the Frewsburg district school board.

Parents' charges included: —Teachers using profanity in front of students.

—Students being made to read aloud suggestive passages from books included in their curriculum.

—Insufficiently cooked food in the school cafeteria.

—A spatula and a flyswatter being used to enforce discipline.

—A teacher relaxing in his office while his "feet on the desk" while a student assistant conducts classes.

—Students being forced to eat with their fingers after they had forgotten to pick up silverware in the lunch line.

—All students being forced to be silent during lunch period, while only one small group of students was allowed in the cafeteria.

—A physical education program "far below" the state minimum.

Supervising principal George Hussey later refused to discuss the complaint session. He said any comments on the meeting would have to come through the board of education.

Parents contended that the conditions they described existed only because Hussey refused to recognize the situation.

The board was asked to return a report during the Frewsburg PTA meeting in May. A board spokesman said he could not promise a report by the May meeting.

returned only this week. The complaint that sparked the first walkout came when members of Local 549 in Mansfield said GM was "arming out work to a GM plant in Pontiac, Mich. The local said the work should have been done in Mansfield.

Reportedly, 730 of the 1,090 scheduled to work reported on second — afternoon — shift Thursday at Mansfield after 75 per cent of the normal day-shift work force of 1,200 reported. The first walkout began Tuesday on reports that five of those who participated in the mid-February strike would be fired. No pickets were on duty, but rebel leaders insisted the walkout was not ended and blamed "misinformation" for the large number who reported yesterday.

The 26-member International Executive Board of the UAW on Wednesday night ordered an administrator to take over the local, but some 1,200 of its 2,700 members voted at a subsequent meeting to continue their work stoppage.

The National General Motors Council of the United Auto Workers representing 134 bargaining units was summoned to meet here yesterday and was expected to endorse the international union's taking over.

It was only an hour before that session began that GM issued a statement saying:

"The irresponsible and lawless conduct of certain UAW local union leaders at the Fisher Body plant in Mansfield, Ohio, implemented by wildcat strikes, violence and intimidation, inevitably poses the question as to whether or not the continuation of this plant as a key plant under these circumstances is practical or possible."

In placing an administrator over Local 549, UAW President Walter P. Reuther ordered workers to return to their jobs. In the Feb. 15 walkout, workers twice ignored such demands from Reuther but finally went back when a takeover of the local was threatened.

New disruptions began Tuesday night on the circulation of reports that five leaders of the previous eight-day wildcat strike had been fired.

Local GM and the UAW denied the five had been fired, and said they merely had been suspended pending a determination of disciplinary measures to be applied for the first unauthorized walkout.

Robert Hall, president of Local 549, said he agreed with the international's takeover.

Probe

Andrews told the Warren Commission that Oswald came to see him about legal matters several times during the summer of 1963, accompanied by a stock "Mexican" with a short butch haircut. Andrews said he had not seen the Mexican since that time.

Andrews explained his knowledge of "Clay Bertrand" in these words to the Warren Commission:

"I was in Hotel Dieu (a New Orleans hospital) and the phone rang and a voice I recognized as Clay Bertrand asked me if I would go to Dallas and Houston — I think — Dallas, I guess, wherever it was that this boy (Oswald) was being held — and defend him . . . I said I wasn't in shape enough to go to Dallas and defend him and I would see what I could do."

Andrews said he had met Clay Bertrand "a couple of years" previous to that time, adding: "He's the one who calls in behalf of gay kids normally, either to obtain bond or parole for them."

Letter

"American actions often seem unconnected to the rhetoric used to describe what we are doing, a situation that invites cynicism and suspicion about American rhetoric and goals in places far removed from Vietnam itself. We have observed how American efforts can be hampered by such suspicions even in places where these efforts are most constructive," the letter said.

The letter appears on page 3, 257 of the Senate's proceedings in the Congressional Record of March 7. Among the signatories, Miss Peed's name is misspelled. She is listed as Martha Reed.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Here March 15

Warren county persons, on Wednesday, March 15, will have the opportunity to join the Red Cross Bloodmobile Donor Hall of Fame.

The Market St. Chapter House will be the scene of the monthly Buffalo bloodmobile collection visit and the need for blood is again critical, officials report.

Whole blood can be used to replace that lost through hemorrhaging, to a newborn babe or in surgery to save victims from shock or death.

During the February visit there were 16 new donors. Other achieved special donor status. Named one-gallon donors from Warren were Carl Johnson, Albert Kondak, Stuart Kornreich and Mrs. Molly Meacham.

Two-gallon donors were Jack Elder, Clyde Farnsworth, both of Sheffield and Robert Hedrick of Warren.

Proof that giving blood is a pleasant occupation is provided by those who have achieved four-gallon donor status. The most recent are Lewis Crippen, Youngsville; Carl Durlin, Pittsfield and Gordon McDonald, Warren.

The bloodmobile visit next Wednesday starts at 10 a.m. and continues until 4 p.m. Call 723-6000 and tell them you'll be there.

Briefly Speaking

Richard Olson, 12, son of Marshall Olson of 106 Hammond st., was treated at Warren General Hospital last night for lacerations of the right leg. He reportedly cut his leg when he jumped over a fence while playing tag.

Traffic on Route 62 was slowed for about two hours yesterday when a truck carrying autos jackknifed north of the Route 957 intersection. No injuries were reported.

No injuries resulted from an accident on the State Hospital bridge road at 2:45 p.m. yesterday, said state police. A car driven by Lois Bartholomew, 37, of 215 North Carver st., reportedly crossed the center line and went into the path of a car driven by Phillip J. Harkins of Box 205, Pittsfield. The Bartholomew car struck the Harkins car, which snapped a utility pole. Damages to the Bartholomew car were estimated at $50; to the Harkins car, $300.

MAYVILLE — Julia Haluska Cole of Frewsburg RD 1 was arrested yesterday by Chief Criminal Deputy Alie Wilson and Matron Mrs. Grace Israelson of the Chautauqua County Sheriff's Department. She was charged with forging and counterfeiting a U.S. government check. She was sent to Chautauqua County jail to await the arrival of a U.S. Marshal from Buffalo.

The March Meeting of IEEE will be a joint meeting with the American Chemical Society and the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers. This meeting will be held on March 14 at the Elk County Christian High School on Maurus Street in St. Marys.

The speaker will be Ralph Nader — a prominent attorney who has done extensive work on the legal aspects of safe automobile design. The subject of his lecture will be "Auto Safety: The Engineering Remedy."

This will be a Dinner Meeting. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Accidental Death Certificates Given In Jamestown Case

Certificates of accidental death due to carbon monoxide poisoning will be issued for the two young people found dead in Jamestown, N.Y., Tuesday.

Coroner Frederick Hitchcock, who ordered an autopsy, said last night he would issue certificates of accidental death for Stella Thompson, 19, and Charles Santa Maria, 20. Their death was discovered by the landlord of their Winsor st. apartment.

The apartment contained a gas heater which was found turned on when the bodies were discovered.

U.S. Withholding Issuance Of Air Pollution Standards

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Facing resistance from the coal industry and coal state senators, the government has withheld issuance for the past two months of its recommended control standards for sulphur dioxide, a major air pollutant.

Copies of the inch-thick book prepared by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare — and described in mid-December as then "about to be issued" — are now virtually under lock and key, department sources said.

The report sets forth HEW-accepted standards for air safety and advisory criteria for use by states, cities and counties in enacting and enforcing anti-smog laws.

Coal industry leaders' who had an off-the-record meeting with Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner Tuesday, said the report poses impossible criteria for coal-using industries in the New York, Chicago and Philadelphia metropolitan area.

The report is the first of its kind. It is expected to set precedents for others now being prepared on a number of other pollutants considered hazards to health.

It is titled tentatively "Air Quality Controls for Sulphur Oxides." Sulphur dioxide is the chief of the pollutant oxides produced by combustion of coal and industrial fuel oil.

The dispute apparently has been carried on quietly for weeks. Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., acknowledged Thursday that he and Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., had called on Gardner to urge a cautious approach to controls.

Some revisions have been made in the original draft, industry sources said, following protests by the National Coal Policy Conference, Washington, a national organization of coal producers, coal users, and leaders of the United Mine Workers.

The federal government has taken action to curb the sulphur dioxide output of newly constructed public buildings. But a House committee was told Wednesday that smoke from federal buildings contributes importantly to making Washington the fourth dirtiest metropolitan area in the country — after New York, Chicago and Detroit, in that order.

S. Smith Griswold, enforcement chief of the National Center for Air Pollution Control, testified that government power plants fueled by coal and oil are responsible for about one-third of the sulphur dioxide in the atmosphere of the capital city.

Both sides denied HEW has been subjected to pressure from the industry or from Congress. Dr. Richard A. Prindle director of HEW's Bureau of Disease Prevention and Environmental Control told The Associated Press: "I would not say there has been pressure. There have been very extensive discussions."

Estimates were presented to the conference indicating that sulphur oxides contribute about one-fifth the entire 130 million tons of pollutant output spread annually across the nation.

Richard Brown, executive director of the Office of Economic Opportunity for Warren and Forest Counties, was introduced by William Kams, a board member of the WFCEOC. Brown presented a history of the Economic Opportunity Act passed by Congress in 1964 and a background of the structure and implementation of the program in Warren and Forest counties.

He outlined the four areas of self-help programs covered by the OEO. These include education, manpower development, community facilities and family needs.

Area needs were suggested in the form of questions submitted by those present. These pertained to community construction, such as a fire hall or township building, roads, housing for the elderly, and adult education or training classes.

Brown emphasized that his office is prepared to aid with technical assistance those communities interested in setting up self-help programs.

This includes preparing and submitting applications to the proper agencies to obtain federal financial assistance.

Two persons were sentenced and two pleaded innocent to charges in open court arraignment before Judge Alexander C. Flick Jr. yesterday afternoon. There were seven cases processed by District Attorney Samuel F. Bonavita.

Arthur J. Barber of Wesleyville, Pa., pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol, was sentenced to pay costs, $120 fine and five days in jail with credit for two days served. He will begin his period in jail this afternoon and will be released Sunday.

Darlene M. Notoro, 11 Ellison st., Clarendon, entered a guilty plea on a worthless check charge. Bonavita told the court restitution had been made. Mrs. Notoro was placed on six-month probation and ordered to pay costs.

Pleading innocent to charges were William C. Eckman, 8 Alexander st., Warren, leaving the scene of an accident and Donald E. Wilson Jr., 13 Madison ave., driving during suspension. Should the cases come before the grand jury and indictments found, both will face jury trial the week of April 17.

Two others arraigned pleaded guilty and will be sentenced March 23. They were Virgil Ivan Hebler, Sugar Grove, leaving the scene of an accident and Chris A. Kessler, Marienville, assault and battery.

The seventh person, Richard Pratt, of 113 N. South st., charged with fornication and bastardy, asked the court to allow him three months to reach an amicable settlement in the matter which was granted. If the settlement is not reached, he will appear for sentencing July 28.

Two persons are scheduled to be sentenced at 10 a.m. today.

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung has launched a drive to seize complete control of Peking, where fighting has been reported in the past two months, Japanese press dispatches said yesterday.

While the party chairman's supporters control the propaganda outlets of the Red Chinese capital, islands of resistance are said to remain manned by backers of Mao's enemy, President Liu Shao-chi.

Reports by travelers reaching Hong Kong from Peking told of one such island of resistance, Chinese Moslems, angered by the arrest of several Moslems as enemies of Mao and his purge.

These reports said that in one fight in January, Peking Moslems attacked a police station and forced the release of the Moslem prisoners. By this account, about 800 Moslems stormed a public security office in the Moslem district in February, wrecked it, and then put to flight Red Guards who had seized a mosque.

The Peking correspondent of the newspaper Nihon Keizai said Mao's Communist party Central Committee has put Vice Premier Hsieh Fu-chih, public security minister, in charge of the campaign to seize control.

The correspondent said 27 Maoist organizations in Peking formed a preparatory committee to organize "the Metropolitan Revolutionary Committee to seize power" under the guidance of Hsieh.

Tidioute Action Group To Vote on Committee

As the climax to a community action meeting in Tidioute School cafeteria last night, a committee was appointed to submit a slate of candidates to be elected as officers of the Tidioute area group and to name a representative on the board of directors of the Warren-Forest Counties Economic Opportunity Council.

Serving on the nominating committee to select candidates for chairman, vice chairman, secretary and board member will be Gordon Downey, chairman; Lenore McIntyre; and Donald Klinefelter. The next community action meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 6, in Tidioute School cafeteria.

Some 27 persons from Lime-stone, Triumph and Deerfield townships and Tidioute borough attended last night's initial meeting. They represented local governing bodies, clergy schools, business community, civic and service organizations, and other citizens interested in learning more about anti-poverty programs.

Richard Brown, executive director of the Office of Economic Opportunity for Warren and Forest Counties, was introduced by William Kams, a board member of the WFCEOC. Brown presented a history of the Economic Opportunity Act passed by Congress in 1964 and a background of the structure and implementation of the program in Warren and Forest counties.

He outlined the four areas of self-help programs covered by the OEO. These include education, manpower development, community facilities and family needs.

Area needs were suggested in the form of questions submitted by those present. These pertained to community construction, such as a fire hall or township building, roads, housing for the elderly, and adult education or training classes.

Brown emphasized that his office is prepared to aid with technical assistance those communities interested in setting up self-help programs.

This includes preparing and submitting applications to the proper agencies to obtain federal financial assistance.

LBJ Virtually Assures Humphrey 1968 Spot

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — President Johnson virtually assured Vice President Humphrey yesterday of renomination as his running mate in 1968—if he runs again himself.

"I have never known a public servant that I worked better with, or for whom I had more admiration, or who I thought was more entitled to the public trust than the vice president," Johnson said at a news conference.

"I felt that way when I asked the convention in Atlantic City to select him, and I feel even stronger about it today."

After an endorsement of these proportions, political observers concluded, the President would have great difficulty in justifying the replacement of Humphrey on the 1968 ticket.

Johnson was less specific about his own inclination to seek a second full term next year, but he did nothing to discourage the widely held assumption that he would run again.

A reporter asked the President if he would "end all this speculation" about his future political plans.

"I'm not ready to make a decision about my future after January '69 at this time," he replied.

"I think that, down the road, several months from now, there will be an appropriate time for an announcement of what my future plans are."

If Johnson were planning to retire at the end of his present term, he would almost certainly try to conserve his congressional influence and political power as long as possible by delaying any such announcement well into 1968 rather than making it in the relatively near future.

Yesterday's advance glimpse of the party's 1968 ticket was sketched by the President as the Democratic National Committee opened a two-day meeting designed to rekindle some of the flagging enthusiasm for such a re-election effort.

In the wake of substantial Republican gains last November, some members of the Democratic committee have criticized the President for letting the party's national machinery fall into rusty disuse. For example, yesterday's was the first meeting of the national committee in at least a year.

Scout Exhibit Ticket Sale Begins Today

Ticket sales for a "Scouting in Action" show April 3 begins today. The show will be from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the National Guard Armory on Hickory st.

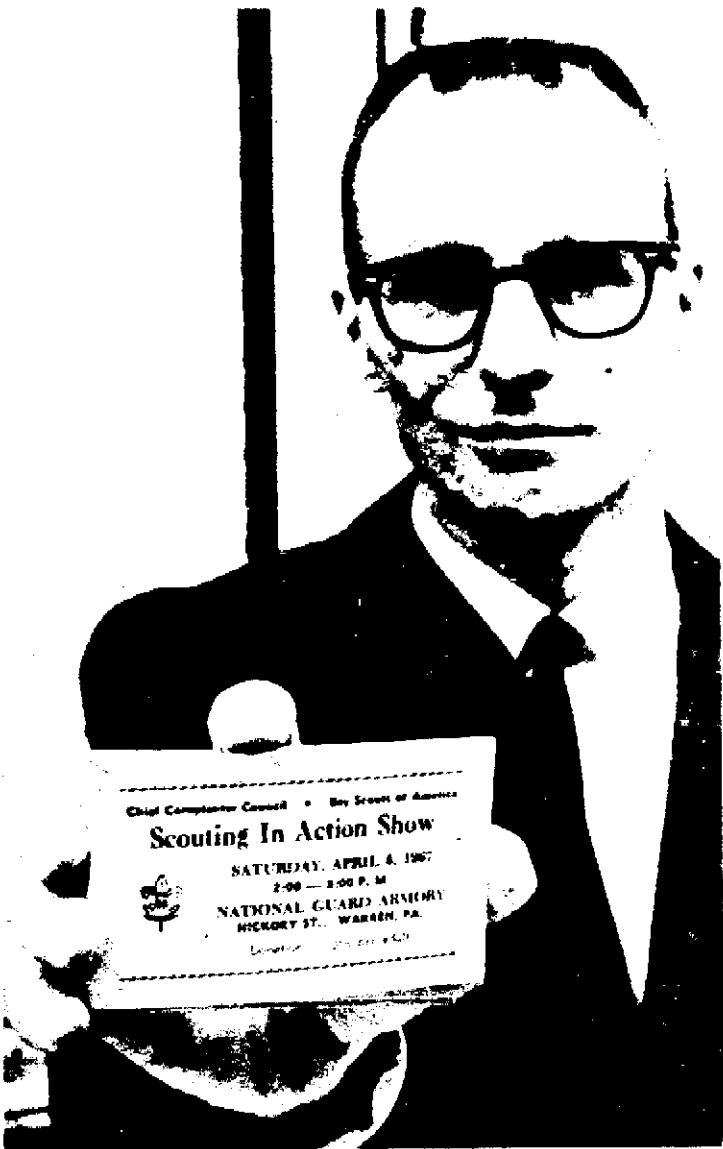

A ticket kickoff meeting was held at Cornplanter Scout Center last night.

Children and students will be admitted to the show free. The price for adults is 50 cents.

Sponsoring the show is Warren Kiwanis Club. Their show committee is headed by Jim Hedman, assisted by Dennis Hedges, ticket sales chairman. Dick Ebel is in charge of program participation; Jim Holding heads publicity work, and Bob Hammerbeck is in charge of arrangements.

About 25 scouting groups will be represented in the show. Demonstrations will include pancake cooking and scuba diving.

Prizes will be awarded those who sell the most tickets. Printz Co. will award a prize to the best uniformed pack, troop or post.

President's Press Conference Barrage of Vietnam Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sidestepped a collision with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., over Vietnam yesterday while announcing a March conference somewhere in the Pacific with his military and diplomatic commanders in Vietnam.

And in a dramatic turnabout,

Johnson injected a shot in the arm into a sagging economy. He is asking Congress to restore a seven per cent tax credit for investments by businessmen in machinery and equipment as well as an accelerated depreciation allowance for new buildings.

He said, though, that he saw no reason at this time to change his recommendation that Congress impose a six per cent surcharge on most personal income and corporate taxes July 1.

These were top news nuggets from a news conference which television viewers for the first time could see in live color.

Johnson was ready with a slight smile and the statement about the economic measures. But as with all sessions with reporters of late, the bulk of the questions and answers revolved around Vietnam.

The first question tossed at Johnson was this: "Mr. President, in view of the recent statements and speeches which either differ with your Vietnam policy or suggest major changes in it, are you considering any effort to de-escalate these apparent differences with such people as Sen. Kennedy and people who believe as they do?"

Johnson replied that different individuals had different approaches, that "I have no particular fault to find, or criticism to make of others," and that he just used the best judgment he could and did what he thought best for the country.

There have been reports in print that an angry set-to took place between Johnson and Kennedy at the White House after the senator returned from a European trip on which he took soundings on Vietnam sentiment.

One version was that the President had told the senator he would have the blood of American boys on his hands if he kept criticizing U.S. policy and that he would be finished politically. Kennedy was described as saying he didn't have to take that kind of talk.

Whatever might have happened before, Johnson was talking softly and rather amicably yesterday.

The President did seem to be saying somewhat pointedly, though, that he probably was in a better position than anybody else to call the shots on Vietnam.

"I have the benefit of a worldwide network of trained diplomats," he said.

"I have the experience of the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

"I have the judgment and recommendations of the Cabinet, the secretary of state and the secretary of defense."

"I have constant consultations with our allies in the world and particularly our allies engaged with us in Vietnam."

"On the basis of that information, I must make judgments, and I do. Sometimes those judgments are different from what other people, if they were in this position, would make."

Accident Clarified

An accident report of a traffic mishap which occurred at 7:29 p.m. Tuesday on Pennsylvania ave. has been clarified. Police said a car operated by Stanley J. Swartz, of 117 Mohawk ave., traveling east, turned into the Red Barn parking lot and was struck by a westbound car driven by James A. Kramer, 1014 Spring st. Kramer told police the Swartz vehicle pulled in front of him. Witnesses at the scene said the Kramer car was traveling without lights. Police said the latter vehicle was black and that poor lighting conditions in that section of the borough made it difficult for Swartz to see.

Expert Proposes Police Use Gun Only to Defend Life

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
CHICAGO—A Treasury Department expert proposed yesterday that the policeman be required to keep his gun in his holster unless he needed it to defend a life.

Arnold Sagalyn, director of the department's office of law enforcement coordination, said modern science and technology could now provide non-injurious weapons for the control and apprehension of most lawbreakers.

The new arsenal includes maces that fire up to 50 rounds of tear gas in 50 seconds, each harmlessly incapacitating. There are dart guns that shoot red pepper derivatives or other irritants, all effectively immobilizing. Projectiles of dye, brightly colored or invisible, mark rioters or fleeing crime suspects for later arrest.

Sagalyn, who is also United States representative to the International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL), told a national symposium on law enforcement that resort to the gun and club not only killed and injured minor law violators and innocent bystanders, but was increasingly becoming "the incendiary factor" igniting riots, embittering communities, destroying property and endangering policemen.

"To the extent that our police weapons serve to engender counter-violence and inflame the community," he said, "their continued use as now employed will pose grave consequences for our domestic tranquility."

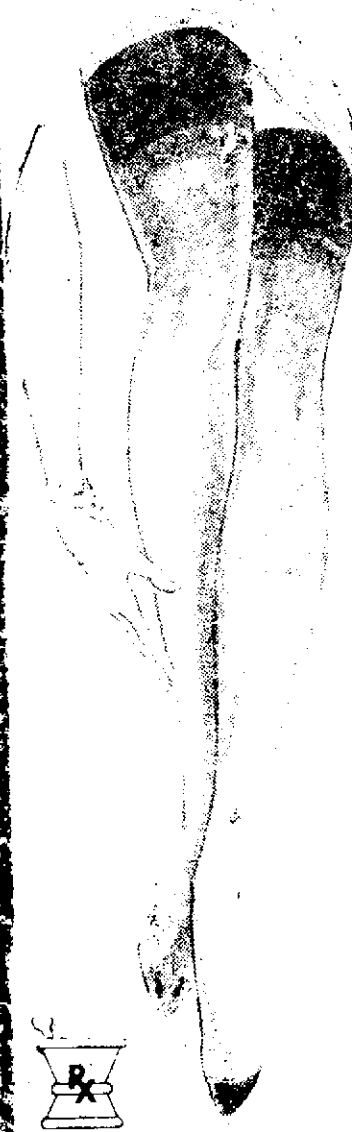

Joseph F. Coates of the Institute for Defense Analyses, which provides technical consultation for the Defense Department, said in an interview that another year of research could produce a single, all-purpose weapon to replace the gun and baton.

Col. Rex Applegate, an expert on riot control, said the harmless belt-carried chemical mace, now in experimental

Consular Treaty with Russia Survives First-Round Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The consular treaty with the Soviet Union survived a first-round attack by opponents yesterday. An attempt to amend it was defeated 53 to 26 — just over the two-thirds majority that would have been required if the Senate had been voting on ratification.

The amendment, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said, would have killed the treaty itself.

No vote on the treaty is expected until next week. In yesterday's test, 16 Democrats and 10 Republicans joined in supporting the amendment, which was killed by a combination of 33 Democrats and 20 Republicans.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., has introduced two reservations which probably would make it unacceptable to the Soviet Union.

Yesterday's amendment by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., would have eliminated the provision granting full diplomatic immunity to arrest for consular officials and employees. That's the same immunity now granted at the ambassadorial level.

This is not in other consular treaties, and Talmadge said he thought it wrong to give the Soviet Union a special privilege not granted others.

The immunity clause, Mundt said, was insisted upon by the Soviet Union and would merely widen the door for more Communist espionage.

effect this would kill the treaty."

Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., said Talmadge had pointed out "the Achilles heel in this treaty."

But Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., joined in calling for ratification as the treaty now reads.

Javits said without the provision for immunity from all prosecution, the United States would not have agreed to the treaty. He added, "We wouldn't send our people to the Soviet Union unless they had immunity."

The reservations introduced by Mundt pose a formidable obstacle for the pact. They would require the Russians to pull back on aid to Vietnam and assure freedom of movement and expression in the Soviet Union for American officials and newsmen.

Said Mansfield: "Let's face it, some of these are kind of tough to vote against."

Picatinny Arsenal Fire, Explosion Kills Four Men

DOVER, N.J. (AP) — Four men were killed and two injured yesterday in a fire and explosion at Picatinny Arsenal, one of the nation's largest ammunition research and development centers.

A spokesman for the sprawling arsenal, which also is an important manufacturer of rockets and ammunition, said the men were working on a pyrotechnic composition when it caught fire.

All were employed in the arsenal's Industrial Services Directorate.

The dead were identified as James Johnson Jr., 53, of Morristown, Robert L. Ridner, 42, of Hopatcong, and Willis Johnson, 30, of Newark, all munitions operators, and Robert Braverman, 47, of Netcong, an explosives operator.

The injured, Clyde Paterson,

55, of Wharton, and George Haffner, 44, of Franklin, were treated at Dover General Hospital and released.

The arsenal employs about 8,000 workers.

The victims were in a building located in the northwest corner of the plant. The explosion tore off parts of the roof of the structure.

The spokesman said a board of inquiry began an investigation shortly after the fire.

Dover has been the scene of 11 other munitions explosions since 1926, 10 of them at Picatinny Arsenal. The previous explosions took a total of 46 lives and injured 156.

Located 45 miles west of New York City, Picatinny produced the first atomic artillery shell and improved designs for the "bazooka," an antitank gun.

Pesticides: Tool For Survival

Several years ago, the use of pesticides in agriculture suddenly became an issue of national concern. Many took the extreme view that pesticides should be outlawed altogether in the belief that they posed a health hazard of enormous proportions. In effect, it was advocated that the "balance of nature" be permitted to work its will and that man continue to live in submission to that will as best he could.

The trouble with this "balance of nature" philosophy is that in this day and age of soaring populations, man himself was destined to become its victim. Thus, he has been faced with the choice of socially accepting the fate of decimation through starvation or of achievement through science as a means of protecting his food supply. He chose to protect his food supply. In this effort, pesticides have been one of his major allies, and their use has been accepted as a matter of necessity in what must become a global effort to increase the world's food production. The chief concern of scientists, governmental authorities and industry now lies in intensive chemical research, controlled application and general public education.

The federal government is deeply involved in this matter. Dr. George L. Mehren, assistant sec-

Fighting Recession

For the moment, let's downgrade the economists who say that all we are now experiencing is a temporary pause in the upturn. For the sake of answering a vital question in many minds, let's join the pessimists who argue that the minus signs spotting our economy today signal the start of recession.

The vital question: Is not there a grave danger that the very discussion of recession will cause businessmen and consumers to become overcautious and thereby intensify the danger?

The answer: Far more important and constructive is the evidence that alertness to the threat is in itself a potent "secret weapon" against the threat. Because of concern about the downturn, policymakers already have taken steps to stop it from continuing, deepening and spreading. If the economy does not perk up as a result of these and other steps on schedule, anti-recession policy will become more aggressive.

In short, by openly acknowledging that some key economic signals have changed from green to amber, we can act in advance to prevent the signals from turning a dark red.

Consider these six points: (1) Since the credit squeeze reached near-panic proportions late last year, the Federal Reserve System has been progressively easing up. It is deliberately feeding funds into the banking system to encourage business lending and deliberately putting financial institutions in general in better shape to make more mortgage loans. The aim of Federal Reserve policy through most of 1966 was to curb our pace of growth; the aim so far in 1967 is to spur our growth.

The results are starting to show, and the key point is that if the Federal Reserve concludes our economy needs more help, it can overnight pump much more credit into the business stream. Already, though, easier credit has pushed up new housing starts to an annual rate of 1 1/4 million units, a full 50 per cent above the low reached in October. Permits for new houses also have climbed sharply, telegraphing further recovery. Housing is a huge industry and its revival will fan out to bolster many other industries.

(2) The proposed July 1 effective date for a modest income tax increase seems increasingly unrealistic. The reasons the President put the date at July 1 were: to give the Federal Reserve a firm basis for easing credit and to give the economy time to pick up speed in response to this and higher Government spending.

If instead our economy continues to droop, income tax increases any time this year are dead.

(3) In place of an anti-inflationary income tax boost, the Administration well may ask for an anti-recessionary restoration of the investment tax incentives to encourage businessmen to hike their spending on new plants and equipment. This restoration, now slated for Jan. 1, 1968, could easily be pushed ahead.

(4) At all levels of government, spending is climbing to new peaks and the spending can be "adjusted" to stimulate activity. Early this week, for instance, the Administration released $380 million of funds into the mortgage market to spur housing this spring. This was from a $1 billion fund "frozen" in 1966 as an anti-inflationary measure. Last week, it released $125 million of funds to spur highway construction. This was from $1.1 billion of highway funds "deferred" in 1966. The untieing of huge totals can be continued in the months ahead.

(5) A new package of Social Security benefits for millions of individuals is on the way and this money will flow immediately into the spending stream. (6) hefty income tax refunds for millions of taxpayers also are on the way and these windfalls also will be spent at once.

This is just a sampling of what will and could occur. This is why a recognition of economic danger is a protection against the danger. This is why in our era, well-advertised recessions rarely arrive as advertised.

Hoffa in Jail, Losers Lose

(c) N. Y. Times News Service WASHINGTON — After all these years, the United States has at last succeeded in putting James Hoffa in prison. Who knows where this kind of thing could lead? If it keeps up, Mississippi might start putting people in jail for murdering civil-rights workers, and what sort of country would we have then?

The answer is that we would have a country lacking in those bleak eternal verities that comfort the losers among us. Take the Hoffa case. James Hoffa out of prison in defiance of all the forces of righteousness was a national asset. Every man who received a parking ticket for trying to beat a curbside meter needed a free Hoffa to make life tolerable. "A fine country we've got here," he could complain, "it lets a guy like Hoffa run around free while it persecutes decent people like me with parking tickets."

Thus, as long as Hoffa was free every small-bore cheater who got caught in the act could comfort himself with the idea that his punishment was a kind of public acknowledgment that he was really a decent fellow. Hoffa free gave misanthropes something to growl about at cocktail parties ("they never dare go after the really big ones") and satisfied the public need for evidence that the social fabric was in an advanced state of rot.

With Hoffa in jail, we have lost something big to complain about. His jailing, in fact, may be the biggest setback for the nation's winners since the New York Yankees finished tenth in the American League last fall.

As long as the Yankees were finishing first with regularity, we could satisfy our need to see decay everywhere by moaning, "the Yankees are ruining baseball." We are bereft of both the Yankees and Hoffa, and as if these losses were not bad enough, we are probably soon going to have to quit complaining that the new popular music is ruining our children. After a decade of "it's this awful music that's ruining our children," a few daring adults have started listening to the music the children have been listening to and have begun to spread the word that it isn't half bad.

Much of it, in fact, is very good. As the adult world gradually takes it up, as it almost certainly will now, the complaint, "it's this awful music that's running our children," will pass from common usage. And what will we have left then to justify the national need to see our children in a state of ruin?

With the long-hair and mod-dress fashions fading from popularity, there will be no easy whines to come by. We may even have to cope with the thought that our children are not being ruined at all. And what would life be like if things should come to that pass?

Fortunately, there are enough bleak inevitabilities in the future to keep our pessimists from having to cheer up. Detroit's resistance to the auto-safety regulations is a small case in point.

What man sincerely persuaded to the bleak view of life was not cheered recently by the auto makers' campaign to make the government withdraw its tougher regulations? "The government's too busy browbeating little fellows like me to waste time cracking down on the big money boys out in Detroit," will be a satisfyingly venomous thought for the next few weeks when form 1040 looms through the house.

Spring will bring influenza. ("Influenza's too busy making life miserable for little fellows like me to waste time cracking down on those rich idlers down in the Caribbean.")

The final payment on the automobile will bring the sound of engine parts falling to the street in dead of night.

But Why Avoid the Question?

Before we resign ourselves to the idea that in Vietnam diplomacy is exhausted, that nothing can be done except by intensifying the fighting, we ought to know why the administration insists on ignoring the public statements of the Soviet Union.

Three times since Feb. 9 we have been told that the cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam would "open the way" to a negotiated settlement. We have been told this by the Soviet Prime Minister, Alexei Kosygin, and twice after that by President Nikolai Podgorny. In these statements from the principal ally of North Vietnam we have been offered openly what the President has repeatedly said is our objective.

Why then do we ignore the Soviet Union? Because, says Secretary of State Dean Rusk, we know through our private channels of information that Hanoi will not do what the Soviet Union says it will do. Is Washington really better informed about Hanoi than is Moscow?

What would be the purpose of the Soviet government in making a proposal on which it cannot make good? To deceive the American people? To deceive the rest of the world? Is it possible that the Soviet government would take the risk of practicing a gross and spectacular deception which, if it is a deception, could so easily be exposed by taking Kosygin and Podgorny at their word, suspending the bombing and waiting for them to make good?

Even more inexcusable than Rusk's refusal to step up to the ball and put it back in the Soviet court is his strategic speculation as to what might happen if we took up the Soviet offer. He sees a strong build-up of North Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam while we, having tied our hands with the promise not to bomb, suffer severe losses.

This is a nightmare conjured up by the ambiguous word "permanent" which, though used by some North Vietnamese, has not been used by the Soviet officials. It reduces the whole affair to absurdity to believe that the Soviet government believes that the United States will not fight back if it is attacked, that the United States will disarm itself forever if instead of the way being opened to a peace conference the way is closed by another Vietnamese offensive.

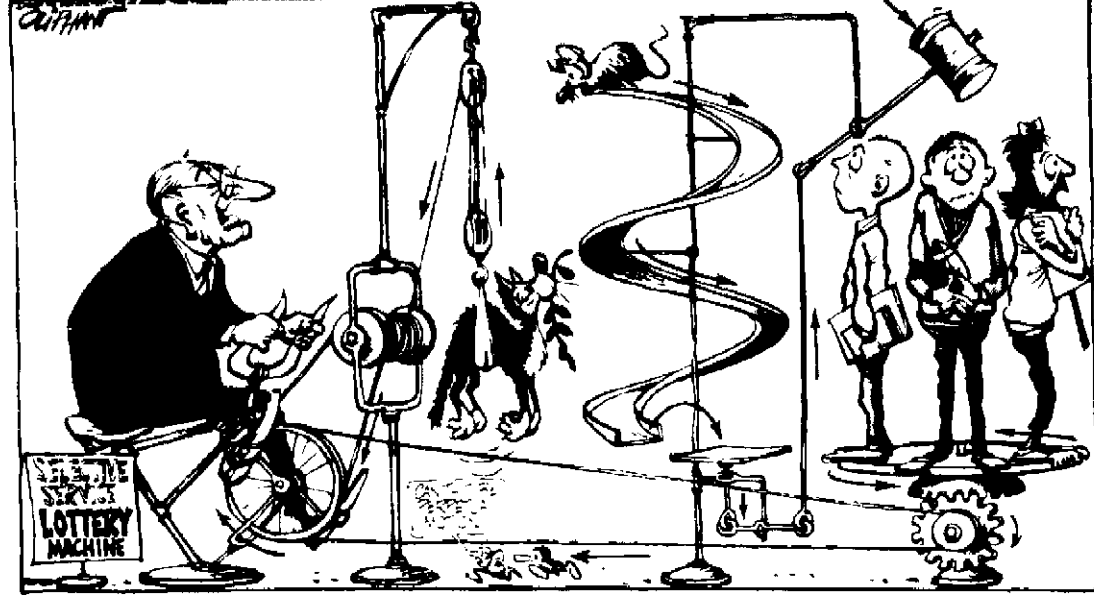

The stakes are high. There is at stake peace in this cruel war. There is at stake, also, the good name of the President and of the country. The issue is for the time being quite specific. Nothing is gained and only harm is done by muddying the waters with reports of secret information which contradict the public statements of the Soviet government.

The specific issue is: Why has the administration ignored in March, 1967, a proposal which meets exactly what it is demanding in 1966? This is a troublesome and ugly question, and it will not disappear in a cloud of vituperation.

Humor in Taxes

The meaning of Internal Revenue terms occasionally eludes the taxpayer ("sailing permit" is used for a tax clearance to leave the country). A woman inquiring about a sailing permit phoned and said, "I was told I needed a sailing permit, but this time I'm dying. What do I need for that?"

DREW PEARSON

River's District is Loaded

(Copyright, 1967, by Bell-McClure Syndicate) WASHINGTON—Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, the white-haired, bourbon-imbibing House Armed Services chairman, possesses such power over the Pentagon that the generals and admirals scramble to do his bidding.

They have loaded his back-water South Carolina district with so many military installations that it could wage a major war on its own. This has brought prosperity to the home folks, including his former law partner, T. E. Pedersen, who does a big business in representing defense contractors.

Pedersen admitted to us that he began representing defense contractors while he still practiced law with Rivers. He hastened to add, however, that "the Congressman did not participate in any fees that I received from them."

It is against the law for a Congressman to accept any fees or gifts in return for helping a company get a government contract. There is no law, however, which says his law partner can't collect from such clients.

Pedersen insisted far more defense contractors have come to him since he broke up his law partnership with Rivers in 1960. It is no secret around Charleston, however, that the two are still close friends.

When Rivers began passing on military legislation, his district already had the Charleston naval base, Charleston Army depot, Parris Island recruit depot, and the Beaufort National Cemetery. He started out in 1941 on the House Naval Affairs Committee, which was later merged with the Military Affairs Committee. During World War II, the Navy added a de-gaussing station at Charleston and a weapons station at Berkeley. The army also built an air base at Charleston. The de-gaussing station and air base were closed after the war.

By 1949, the seniority system had made Rivers a subcommittee vice chairman, therefore a power that the armed forces had to reckon with. He also headed a special subcommittee investigating military hospitals.

At once, the Navy established a naval hospital at Beaufort in 1949 and reactivated the de-gaussing station in 1951. The Air Force hastily reopened its Charleston base in 1950 and added a tank farm in 1952.

In 1955, Rivers became vice chairman of the subcommittee in charge of military land transfers. He also headed a special subcommittee dealing with property acquisitions.

Suddenly, the armed services began acquiring more property in Rivers's district. The Navy established the Marine Corps air station in Beaufort in 1955. And the Air Force, not to be outdone, built a recreation annex in Berkeley the same year. In 1959, the Air Force added the Parris Island gap filler annex.

The Army leased three buildings in Rivers's district—an Army National Guard office in Hampton, 1959; Army Reserve building, Charleston, 1960; and Army National Guard office, Charleston, 1965.

The Navy has also expanded its Charleston naval base, which is now headquarters for the Polaris submarine fleet in the Atlantic. We talked to Charleston shipyard workers, for example, whom the Navy was flying to Scotland to make secret repairs on laid-up Polaris subs.

The Air Force also flies Rivers wherever he wants to go, often as the sole passenger in a huge Air Force jet. The Navy provides him with ambulance service to the Bethesda Naval Hospital whenever he needs to recuperate from another alcoholic binge.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff also give him top-secret briefings, though his drinking problem has made him a security risk who could not get clearance for a job as a Pentagon clerk. Military officers, sworn to protect the national security, have conspired to cover up Rivers's alcoholic problem from the public.

On at least three occasions, the Secretaries of the three services, Joint Chiefs of Staff, and assorted other brass hats took time out from the Vietnam war to participate in hometown celebrations honoring Rivers.

In October, 1965, this glittering assemblage of high defense officials stood through a downpour in North Charleston while Mrs. Rivers unveiled a bronze bust of her husband gazing majestically down from a seven-foot granite shaft.

An equally impressive group turned up a year earlier in the tiny South Carolina town of St. Stephen to help celebrate "L. Mendel Rivers Day." They came to an earlier "L. Mendel Rivers Day" jubilee in Charleston in 1959. This illustrates the power of one man, an alcoholic at that, over the armed forces of the United States.

Mrs. William O. Douglas, bubbly 23-year-old bride of the Supreme Court Justice, has jarred the dignified Supreme Court. At a recent Yale Club reception, she started down the receiving line and got as far as retired Justice Stanley Reed.

Gaily, she flung her arms around his neck, gave him a resounding kiss. "Hello, Stanley! How are you dear?" she said. Then she proceeded to give the same treatment to all the other Supreme Court Justices. She left the flustered justices wiping lipstick off their faces.

JOSEPH ALSOP

President Kennedy's Gamble

VIENTIANE, LAOS—A bit more than five years ago President Kennedy took a major gamble, not without some reluctance. His first instinct, by some now forgotten, had been to meet with force the forceful North Vietnamese invasion of sleepy little Laos.

Instead, for many practical and political reasons, the President decided to seek a settlement. Gov. Averell Harriman was deputed to undertake the task. Since the Soviets also wanted a seeming settlement, the Geneva agreement of 1962 was the result. The long dishonored terms of this Geneva agreement can be briefly summarized. Laos was to have a three-cornered government with each corner hopelessly irreconcilable with the two others (composed of neutralists, nationalists and Communists), and the North Vietnamese invaders were to withdraw from Laos entirely and were never to use Laos as a corridor to supply or reinforce the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.

On paper, these were good terms, testifying amply to Harriman's witness and stonewalling powers as negotiator. They were, in fact, crammed down the reluctant throat of the North Vietnamese by Soviet urging. But no one, least of all President Kennedy and, one presumes, Ambassador Harriman, really expected the terms of this agreement to be observed by the North Vietnamese signatories.

The virtual certainty that the agreement would be honored only in the breach was pointed out to President Kennedy not long after it was triumphantly signed. He remarked, with a wry smile, that one could never be sure about such matters, but that there were certainly ample foundations for such a forecast.

To this he added, speaking much more seriously, that if you were going to make a stand in Southeast Asia, the right place to do so was in the main theater of action, especially if the main theater was much more militarily advantageous than a subordinate but more early-threatened theater.

"The key is South Vietnam," he said, "and although the other side may think differently, we are not going to be beaten in South Vietnam."

Although the worst fears about the unreliability of accord reached in 1962 were fully justified from the very outset, the President's gamble has also been justified—at least tentatively. To begin with the first point, no breach of any solemn international agreement has ever been more flagrant or more prompt than the breach of the last Geneva agreement by the Hanoi war planners.

At this writing the war planners in Hanoi have assigned to duty on the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Southern Laos—which they gravely promised never to use again—a combined total of nearly 35,000 men.

Of this total, about 20,000 are coolies and farmers. These are people who have been sent in to maintain the trail's network of main and subsidiary roads and to plant rice in the fields abandoned by the wretched Laotians whom the North Vietnamese have forced to take refuge on our side of the line.

A North Vietnamese division, to provide flank guard for the trail, and engineer battalions, to maintain it, comprise the balance of the men on the trail. It can be seen, then, how perfectly this part of the accord is being honored.

As for the other part of the accord, which was supposed to give this small and pleasant country the right to settle its own affairs in its own way, the story is exactly the same. In North Laos, where the Laotian civil war centers, there are still about 13,000 North Vietnamese troops.

They are either operating in independent battalions or are brigaded in one way or another with the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces. And if these foreign troops were not here, the Laotians would indeed have settled their own affairs among themselves.

Outwardly, therefore, President Kennedy's gamble has been a dead bust. A second report will show why this has nonetheless been a good gamble—provided the recent prescriptions of the President's brother are not adopted.

A Look At The Record

HARRISBURG — Reporter's Notebook:

BLISTERING LEGISLATIVE PACE—With more than two calendar months of sessioning under their belts in the current 1967 legislative session, Pennsylvania's lawmakers unquestionably have burned the legislative ropes in a zap of frenzied activity—or something. The "or something" perhaps would be more appropriate. A look at the record is interesting:

For example, when they turned up on Capitol Hill Monday to begin this week's sessions, the Senate calendar consisted of two bills—one on third reading, the other on second reading. The House of Representatives was a bit more "zappy"; its Monday calendar consisting of 17 bills and one (hold-over) resolution.

And—in the two months-plus the Legislature has been in session, this is the score up to this week: Exactly one whole piece of general legislation has cleared both House and Senate and been approved by the Governor. Six appropriation bills (including one covering inaugural expenses) has gained gubernatorial approval—and as of the first of the week when lawmakers returned there was neither a Senate nor a House bill in His Excellency's mitts awaiting gubernatorial penning.

On the other hand, the tally of bills introduced in the House stood at 418—of which number a flat half-dozen had managed to pass the lower chamber and be sent to the Senate for consideration. On the Senate side, 306 bills had gained introduction in that chamber, of which number 31 had been given senatorial blessing and sent along to the House of Representatives for mulling, with 17 Senate bills gaining House clearance.

KING SNOW SAID "NO"—The State Board of Education routinely meets every other month. This month of March was the meeting month originally scheduled—that is, until the snows of earlier this week forced members to cancel their sojourn to the fair village of Harrisburg for the meeting yesterday and Wednesday.

It wasn't so much the snow that filtered over the Capital City that caused the cancellation (Harrisburg had only an inch or two, depending on where you measured the slush) but rather snow conditions elsewhere throughout the state.

There are eighteen members on the board—and only one lone sport hails from the Harrisburg area. The difficulty arose in rounding up the other members, some of whom were snowbound in the northern and western tundra provinces of the state.

In any event, the board meeting has now been re-scheduled for April 12 and 13—with the regularly scheduled May meeting still on the agenda.

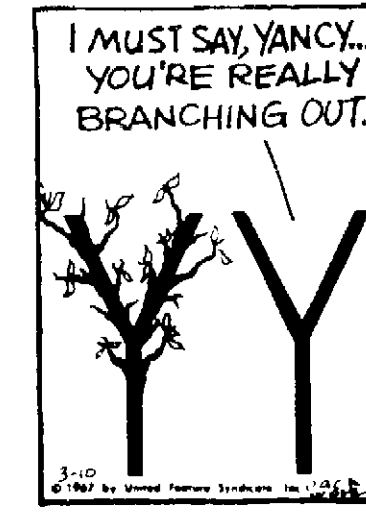

KEYSTONE STATE DOCTORATES—Pennsylvania ranks fifth among all the states in total doctorates awarded during the ten-year period 1955-65, according to the Department of Public Instruction. During the decade a total of 6084 doctor's degrees were conferred, with Pennsylvania standing behind New York (15,595) California (11,285), Illinois (8703), and (surprisingly?) Massachusetts (8073).

In the nation as a whole during those ten years, 111,766 doctorates were awarded, representing nearly a 100 percent increase over the decade.

By 1975, the order of popularity of these earned doctorates is expected to be: engineering, physical sciences, arts and humanities, education, social sciences, and biological sciences.

State Final Picks

Even if we don't get to see the PIAA State Wrestling Finals (imagine much gnashing of teeth), we'll predict the winners.

With all the grapplers returning to the tourney for the second time, fourteen including four defending Champions, it would appear easy to pick this year's titlists, but anything can happen.

There were, for instance, 18 underclassmen at States last year, but four were de-railed somewhere along the way to tomorrow's tourney. Waynesburg's Dale Murdock, a 95-pounder last season, was defeated in the Regionals by Les Peterson of Canon-McMillan, 10-7 and Trinity's John Abajace, 120-pound runner-up in 1966, didn't even get to the Regional finals at 133 last weekend.

And, of course, we all know what happened to Dick Braymer and Art Grinnell.

Playing the percentages, and going with the State Champions and the veterans from last year's tourney, the winners should be:

95-pounds - Dan Clark, Clearfield. Looked good at Regionals and goes into the tourney at 18-0 against some good competition. Our second choice would be Gary McClure of Waynesburg.

103-pounds - Larry Strong, United Joint. By process of elimination. Chris Black of Susquehanna decided West Snyder's Ken Hess, 10-5, in last year's semi-final round; Braymer edged Black, 4-2, then Dave Clark beat Braymer this year. Strong whipped Clark after pinning Bedford's Ray Dunkle, who had defeated Black in a dual meet. (How's that again?)

112-pounds - Ed Osborne, Commodore Perry. This is a hunch, because Peterson beat Murdock in the Southwest (WPIAL) tourney and could be tough. Osborne looked extremely capable at Altoona and the Southwest failed to produce a single Champion in '66.

120-pounds - Ron Junko, Trinity. Junko romped through last year's semi-final with an 8-3 decision, then was just edged by Grinnell, 3-2 in the 112-pound final.

127-pounds - Al Uyeda, Conestoga Valley. He gets the nod over Lock Haven's Larry Rippey because he looked extremely good last year and has held his weight. Rippey had to rally at Altoona to beat Greenville's Gary Taylor, but it should be a whale of a match.

133-pounds - Amedeo Piccioni, Canon-McMillan. Our "hunch" pick of the tourney. He survived a class that included Abajace; Barry Daniels of Bald Eagle Nittany was swamped by Uyeda at 127 last year, 10-4 and Muncy's Dana Calum won a 1-0 overtime decision at Regionals.

138-pounds - Clyde Frantz, Hughesville. No contest. A defending champ who had an 11-0 decision and third period pin last year at 133.

145-pounds - Jim Gollner, Reynolds. Hellertown's Tom Huber also returns in this class, but Gollner beat him 8-2 in last year's semi-finals.

154-pounds - Larry Nolen, Cumberland Valley. Another '66 titlist, he pinned Greenville's Ralph Davis at States last year and should be able to handle Eddie Carr of Erie East.

165-pounds - Jim Torsell, Bellefonte. Probably the toughest class last year with Jesse Rawls, John High, Jack Sullivan and Tim Furno. 165 is possibly the weakest this year.

180-pounds - Geoff Baum, Allentown-Allen. A local coach we know is going with Fletcher Carr, but Baum has one more year of experience and was runner-up last year, losing to Tyrone's Gary DiDomenico, 8-7.

Heavyweight - Dave Joyner, State College. A toss-up between Joyner and Ralph Cindrich of Avella, both returnees; State Champ Pete Drehman of Abington pinned Joyner, then decided Cindrich, 5-0 last year.

Our predictions would give District X two Champions, Osborne and Gollner, and six winners would come from the Central Northwestern Regional. Our District also had a pair of champs last year, but the Region produced only four.

Charles Speidel, editor of "The Keystone Grappler," gave District X a plug in the recent issue by noting, "Northwest Pennsylvania got into the big league last year by sending six men to represent District X in the State meet."

And the mat fans, especially the sports writers, down in the Clearfield-Dubois-State College area are also starting to notice the grapplers coming from this corner of the state. Until a few years ago, only the Erie schools, especially Strong Vincent and East, were sending boys to Penn State, but then Dick Thompson broke in, and Tim Furno, and Braymer, Grinnell, etc. It may not be too long before District X has an outstanding year.

If Tournament Director John Miller comes through, we'll be able to report on our picks first-hand. If not, we'll be reading about them Monday morning, just like you.

STEELE SHAVINGS - Pennsylvania wrestling fans have their choice of either the PIAA State finals this weekend or the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling tourney at the University of Pennsylvania. It depends on whether you prefer the high school brand of grappling or the college variety.

WAHS Gunners Lose To Falcons 720-701

The Warren Area High School rifle team lost its first match of the season at home yesterday as Coudersport beat them by a 720-701 score.

With a 3-1 record, Warren's next opponent will be Westfield on Thursday. The match will also be shot at WAHS.

This match marked the first time that Warren has shot from two positions. In the past they had only shot from a prone position. For yesterday's match the standing, or off-hand position was also used.

George Thompson of Coudersport led all shooters with a total of 190. He hit 99 prone and 91 off-hand. Teammate Kelly fired a perfect score of 100 in the prone position.

Stan Swartz was high for the Dragons with 179. He fired a good 97 in the prone position, but managed to score only 82 off-hand.

Richard Peck had the best prone score for the Dragons with a 98.

Only the top four scores from each team were used to compute the final team score.

The line score of the match is as follows.

Help Needed for Trout Stocking

Ken Corey, local fish warden, was stricken with a heart attack yesterday afternoon and is presently in the Warren General Hospital.

Because of this, an appeal is extended to county fishermen to help with the stocking of trout during the course of his illness. Persons familiar with the streams to be stocked are especially needed.

Streams to be stocked in the near future are:

CHAMPIONSHIP FORM

Lock Haven's Larry Rippey, last year's 120-pound PIAA State Champion, is in the process of pinning Gary Taylor of Greenville in the '27-pound final at the CNW Regional tourney at Altoona last Saturday. Rippey will meet Conestoga Valley's Al Uyeda Saturday and sports editor Larry Steele has picked the latter to retain his 127-pound crown, plus predicting the winners in the other weights in his column today.

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Sophomore Dick Garrett and Little All-America Walt Frazier combined for 32 points last night as Southern Illinois' small-college kings drubbed St. Peter's of New Jersey 103-58 in a first round game of the 30th National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Big Bob Allen dropped in two free throws after the buzzer, giving Marshall University a 70-68 overtime victory over Villanova in the tournament opener.

The victories sent SIU and the Thundering Herd into Monday night's quarter-finals against the still-undetermined Atlantic Coast Conference representative and Nebraska of the Big Eight, respectively.

Garrett hitting 13 of 18 from the field, poured in 28 points and Frazier 24 as the Salukis rolled to their 16th straight victory and 21st in 23 starts.

SIU's 45 point margin was the largest in NIT history, surpassing the 116-81 beating Bradley handed Xavier of Ohio in 1957. Garrett, a slender 6-foot-3 forward, canned four straight shots late in the first half, sparking the Salukis to a 41-29 lead at intermission. He then teamed with Frazier, the 6-3 SIU floor general, in a 35-9 burst that doubled the score at 76-38.

Pete O'Dea, St. Peter's 6-5 center, managed 14 points against SIU, which has given up only 57 points a game. In the opener, Allen, Marshall's 6-9 center, scored five of the Thundering Herd's six points in overtime.

After Villanova's Terry McCuire made one of two free throws, tying the score at 68 with 11 seconds to play, the Herd raced down court and Bob Redd rumbled the basket with a long jump shot. But Allen grabbed the rebound and was fouled by Frank McCall at the buzzer.

He made the first free throw and a small contingent of Marshall rooters raced onto the floor and mobbed their team.

The Herd, now 19-6, blew a 34-24 halftime lead early in the second period as sophomore Johnny Jones and McGure sparked Villanova. Jones scored 18 of his game-high 28 points after intermission and tied the score 64-64 with two free throws in the final one-half minute of regulation play.

Soph. Jim Davidson paced Marshall with 21 points.

Reds Reliever Shot by Ex-Wife

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Southpaw hurler Ted Davidson of the Cincinnati Reds was shot twice last night by a woman identified by police as his estranged wife.

Shot in the abdomen and the right shoulder, Davidson was listed in fair condition at Tampa General Hospital where he underwent emergency surgery.

Officers reported the shooting outside a lounge was preceded by a violent argument between the two. Then, police said, Davidson began to leave the lounge and was hit by bullets from a 22-caliber automatic pistol as he walked out the door.

Police said they were told of the incident by Davidson's wife, Mary Ruth Davidson, 25, who telephoned from another bar.

She was charged with assault to commit murder.

The Davidsons, married in 1962, have two daughters.

Officials said the couple was divorced but Mrs. Davidson's attorneys said they were separated.

Scores of onlookers and newsmen were on the scene when police arrived to take Mrs. Davidson into custody. Police said she had a 22-caliber automatic pistol in her possession.

Davidson was in training camp with the Reds in Tampa.

Gra-Y Playoff Starts Monday

The best-of-three playoff to determine the best team in the Gra-Y League will begin next Monday at Beatty Junior High School when South Street and North Warren meet.

Games will be played on Tuesday and Wednesday, if necessary. All the games will start at 5 p.m.

South Street won the second half while North Warren claimed the first half crown.

It was also announced that the post season tournament had been canceled due to lack of facilities.

Top Mile Race In College Meet

DETROIT (AP) — The biggest field in the three-year history of the National Collegiate Indoor Track Championships will assault the record books today and tomorrow in Detroit's Cobo Arena.

Some 360 track and field stars from 93 schools have been entered in the two-day competition, including Jim Ryun of Kansas, holder of the world's outdoor record for the half mile.

Ryun will match strides in the event with Dave Patrick of Villanova tonight. Included in their competition are Pete Farrell of Notre Dame and Ken Latigo of Ohio State.

Other top stars include Gerry Lindgren of Washington State, Olympian Oscar Moore of Southern Illinois, and Tracy Smith, an Oregon State dropout, in the two-mile run.

In the 440-yard run, George Crosby, 300-yard world record holder, challenges NCAA champion Bill Calhoun and other quarter milers.

The spotlight also will be on Ryun for the mile run when he will compete with Sam Bair, the National AAU champion from Kent State, and Dave Roberts of Washington.

Saints Get Lion's Back

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The New Orleans Saints announced yesterday they have acquired offensive back Bruce McLenna from the Detroit Lions in exchange for offensive tackle Charlie Bradshaw.

McLenna, a 6-foot-3, 228-pounder, did not see much action last year because of a knee injury. He has made a fine recovery from surgery last November, the Saints' announcement said, and is expected to give the new National Football League team needed running back strength. He was a star rusher at Hillsdale College in Michigan before joining the Lions.

Bradshaw, a graduate of Baylor, is a nine-year NFL veteran who played with Pittsburgh last year. Acquired by the Saints in the expansion draft last month, Bradshaw is the only NFL player with a law degree. He's 6-6, weighs 260 pounds, and lives in Houston.

TMO '5 Drops Game To Reed's

JAMESTOWN — A poor first quarter cost the Warren Times Mirror and Observer cagers a game in the Taft Recreation League Wednesday night as they lost to Reed's 74-69.

The locals fell behind 20-10 after one period. In the final three periods Warren outscored their opponents but it wasn't enough to overcome the poor first period.

Dan Crandall scored all seven of his points in the first period for Reed's to get them rolling.

Jerry Waite with a total of 21 points was high for the winners. He had seven field goals and seven out of nine from the foul line.

Three other members of the winners found double figures with John Swanson and Bruce Brink each had 16 and George Wheeler scored 14 for Reed's. Jim McElrath led the Warren quintet with 26 points. He played the pivot in place of Bob Wintburn.

Ron Isackson and Dave Berdine did most of the rest of the scoring for Warren. Isackson scored 16 and Berdine 12. Isackson scored 10 points in the final period as the last-ditch rally fell short by five points.

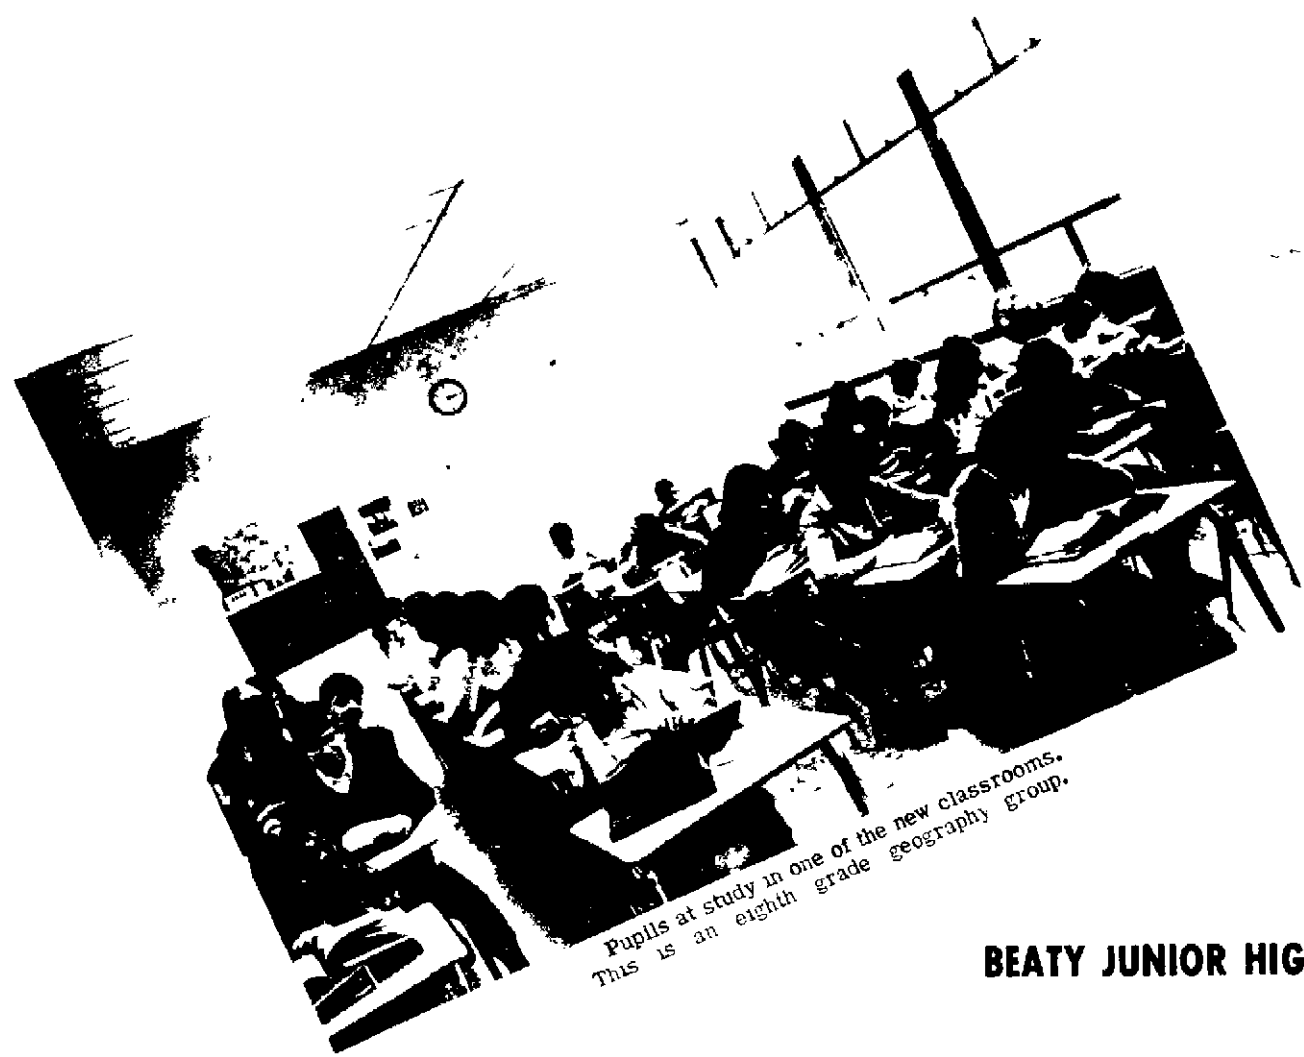

McElrath's big quarter was the second when he scored 10 points.

Both teams scored 33 field goals but the locals managed to make only three of six foul shots while Reed's made good on eight of 18 tries from the 17-foot stripe.

Open House Sunday at Beaty Junior High Facilities

Enlarged and remodeled, Beaty Junior High School will hold open house Sunday afternoon to "show off" its new facilities.

Principal Henry L. Powell announces the entire building, which presently serves 1490 pupils, the largest attendance of any school in the county, will be open to public inspection. The hours will be from 1 to 5 p.m., and teacher and student volunteers will be on hand to offer directions and other services to visitors.

Work on the big addition recently completed at the Third Ave. school at a total outlay of about $1,300,000, was begun early in the summer of 1965. The project involved 17 new classrooms, five designed for science instruction. An auxiliary gymnasium and two new locker rooms have been added behind the older gym, while existing locker rooms have been completely remodeled.

Additional office space, an activity room, and a new health suite are featured in changes made in the administrative wing. A completely new and larger library faces the Conewango Creek side of the first floor addition. A cafeteria enlarged to a capacity of 500 pupils occupies the center of the complex.

Many visitors to the building will find the numerous wall pictures located in the hallways of particular interest. Reproductions of the works of many famous artists have been accumulated over the years through the Student Activity Account and offer colorful points of interest along the long corridors as well as affording a welcome break in the usual drabness of the hallways.

The enlarged and remodeled school also has received considerable new equipment in connection with the expansion. A new public address system also has been installed at the building, which facilitates contact with all rooms and departments.

This is the second addition to Beaty Junior High School, which was originally built in 1929. The first addition was constructed in 1953, followed by the present project, initiated in 1965 and just completed early this year.

Principal Powell and his staff extend an invitation to all parents and friends to visit the newly renovated school on Sunday. All rooms will be open for inspection and guides will be ready to assist visitors. The hours are from 1 to 5 p.m.

Give It a Lift!

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Chapter House, March 15, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

$52,000 FROM ERIE DIOCESE

A check for $52,000 was received this week by officers of the Inter-Faith Center of Warren State Hospital. The money is a gift from the Catholic Diocese of Erie pledged by the Most Reverend John Gannon. Receiving the check in ceremonies yesterday were (left to right) Harold Baker, treasurer of the board of directors; the Rev. Mark Roueche, chaplain at Warren State Hospital; and Merle W. Mitcham, vice chairman,

Inter-Faith Center board. The Inter-Faith group has raised over $250,000 in the past two years toward a goal of $600,000 and is currently conducting a drive for funds in Oil City. Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new chapel at the hospital are planned for later this year according to Harry Segel, Inter-Faith board president. (Photo by Mansfield)

Candidates of Other Boroughs Are Listed

Candidates have filed for the offices of councilmen, assessors and auditors in Warren County's boroughs of Bear Lake, Clarendon, Sugar Grove, Tidoute and Youngsville.

In Bear Lake one lone Democrat, Manford Smith, is running for council.

Republican aspirants to serve as Clarendon councilmen are Paul Check, Howard Thompson and Robert Walker. There is no slate of Democrats. Luther Whitaker (R) and Linnea Knight (D) have filed for borough assessor with Marion J. Walker (D) for auditor.

Three men have filed for council in Sugar Grove on the GOP side, Jerry H. Frank, Conrad E. Melquist and Harvey Sanden. Viola F. Barnes and Jean M. Landin both seek the six year term as auditors on the Republican ticket.

A trio of Republicans have filed petitions for election to council in Tidoute—William F.

Daelhausen, Harold W. Konkle and Elliott Lanning. Florence Owens (R) runs for assessor.

Republicans in Youngsville seeking council seats are Earl F. Arnold, Hugh R. Logan, Francis H. Kane and Chester Wroblewski. Democrat aspirants are Wilbur W. Augenstein, Edward W. Maynard, Richard H. Brown, Elwood A. Peterson and Charles D. Seekings. Clifford Wing (R) and Jack W. Hoy Sr. (D) are running for assessor with William G. Carlett (D) filing for the auditor's post, also sought by John M. McCanna (R).

Town Crier

... By Les Rickey

Girls, I don't want to alarm you, but there's someone in the fashion crowd who is hell-bent on completely destroying the quality that gives you pre-eminence in the modern world: your femininity.

From London comes the word: come summer, the girls are going to look like what boys used to look like. The fashion kings, who dictate women's wear in seasons ahead, have come up with the trouser suit.

"There will probably be an increase in the similarity of men's and women's clothes during the next few years—as women become more recognized in equality terms."

That statement comes from Taylor and Cutter, a magazine which dictates to the dictators of fashion.

Now I don't know about Joe Everybody, but the fellas in my circle of acquaintances don't really want girls to be equal to guys. It's viva la difference all the way down the line, and thank God there's a difference.

How would you feel if you walked into a posh party with your studded and pleated shirt, black tie, tails, etc., and saw some chick across the room—wearing a studded shirt, black tie, tails, etc.? You'd probably (and with good reason) find fault with the half-windor she used on the necktie. Or you'd immediately begin debating the qualities of neckties as opposed to bow ties for formal occasions.

But fashions come and go with the sweeping winds of time, and that now-gauche sack dress hangs limply in the back of her closet as a reminder of this. So I can safely say that this trend won't last six months.

Unfortunately, the idiots who thought it up will.

SPRING FLOWERS AND EASTER BUNNIES, coffee and cream puffs . . . all this will add to the delight of Tuesday morning's fashion show put on by the Varietors Club at the YWCA. Everything has been thought of, even baby sitting is to be provided so mothers may give their undivided attention to the fashions from Morrison's. The coffee hour will be at 9:30 a.m., and the fashions will be modeled starting at 10 by Jo Barratt, Betty Gustafson, Sue Johnson, Mary Jane Kamp, Phyllis O'Neill and Jane Peltz. The very modest fee for this relaxing and thoroughly enjoyable morning is only 50 cents . . . and, it includes the refreshments and the baby sitting service. Just one request, those availing themselves of this service for little ones who are not yet walking or steady on their feet . . . please bring appropriate equipment for their care. Mrs. Helen McDonald is to be narrator for the show.

AT THE D'YOUVILLE COLLEGE Honors Convocation in Buffalo last Monday, according to an account in the Buffalo News, "Women no longer need justify their ability to think as well as men" was ringingly declared by Dr. Mary Angela Harper, a blonde-haired Doctor of Philosophy at Dunbarton College of Holy Cross in Washington, D.C. And, the doctor went on to say women "are more suited to the role of intellectuals than men. . . . To be an intellectual is most truly to be a woman." She expanded on this idea by further saying that woman's most womanly quality was a concrete grasping of reality, and, that this quality gives her a "unique contribution" to intellectual life that brings her to "absolute equality with men". This attractive Doctor of Philosophy, champion of womanhood, and, mother of six children, had one warning however, "women should not imitate masculine traits", to which I add a quiet "Amen".

BULB SNATCHING LATELY? If so you'll be interested in this — The Sixth graders at Lacy Street School are holding a bulb sale tomorrow at the school from 10 a. m. on through the day. The purpose of the sale is to raise funds so that for the first time they, who are about to depart the school for the higher echelons of learning, may make a trip to Niagara Falls. If the fund raising is successful, it is hoped to make this trip an annual one that pupils can look forward to as a sort of pleasurable reward before leaving Lacy. The bulbs will sell four to a package at $1. Overseeing this business enterprise is Sixth Grade teacher, Mr. Robert Mallery. Lacy School is located at 1607 Pennsylvania ave. East.

And, those who can't come — your tureens will be appreciated anyway.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You speak out often against alcoholism and adultery, and you defend certain segments of society which you feel are being exploited. Will you please tell the American people the truth about mental illness? I am sick of whiners who haven't the courage to face life and use their "nerves" as an excuse.

Five years ago my son married a girl who was lazy and spoiled. It wasn't until after they were married that the real problems developed. She was afraid to have children — afraid to entertain her husband's business associates and finally afraid to leave the house.

This girl has cost my son a fortune in doctor bills and her psychiatrist says it will be a long time before she is able to function normally. It is to be expected that the psychiatrist would take her side and defend his profession.

Since the rest of us must face life and handle our problems, is it fair to coddle certain people and call them sick when they are merely hiding from reality? — DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Your ignorance on the subject of mental illness is surpassed only by your determination to remain ignorant. The notion that a person who is emotionally ill is faking to avoid responsibility is equivalent to saying a polio victim could walk if he wanted to but he would prefer to be pushed in a wheel chair. Your daughter-in-law will probably do better in the long haul than you, Madame. This girl could one day be a whole human being with insight and compassion as a result of her therapy, but you will be ignorant and stiff-necked as long as you live, unless you do something about it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When my husband and I were first married he made very little money. We scrimped and did without many things we really needed, but I never felt deprived or unhappy.

Now, 28 years later, my husband makes a very good salary and there is no reason to be so frugal, but we are living exactly the same way we did when we were first married. I am becoming depressed not because we do not have some things we can afford to buy, but because my husband's miserly behavior is getting me down.

Yesterday at supper he said, "Look, I have $300 in my pocket and I spent 20 cents for lunch. I bought a carton of milk and a sweet roll." Then he put out his foot and cowered, "See these shoes? They are four years old. I've had 'em resoled three times."

What is wrong with him? What can I do about it? I've thought of leaving him many times. Please help me. There is no one around here I can confide in. — MISER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your best bet is to insist on a fair allowance or separate maintenance. And follow through with the help of a lawyer if you must.

If a man gets his jollies spending 20 cents for lunch and getting his shoes resoled three times, that's HIS business, but his wife should not be forced to live like a charity case after 28 years of marriage when there is plenty of money around.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cynthia McDade Is Married In Greece

Mr. and Mrs. Alex G. McDade of 525 S. State Street, North Warren, announce the marriage of their daughter, Cynthia June, to Airman Frank E. Sarver of Buffalo, New York, on Saturday afternoon, March 4, at the U.S. Air Force Base chapel in Athens, Greece.

Officiating at the 2 o'clock nuptial service was U.S. Air Force Chaplain Major Paul Ludwig. Miss Christine Zimmerman was the maid of honor and the best man was Staff Sergeant Ben F. Rice.

The bride wore an afternoon length bridal gown of white organza trimmed in lace, and a pearl headdress which secured her brief veil.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the new home of the bride and groom in Athens. Members of the wedding party and guests were in attendance. The couple plans to reside in their home until October 1968, at which time they will return to the United States.

While in Athens both will be continuing their college education through courses sponsored by the University of Maryland. The bride previously attended The Pennsylvania State University, and the groom The University of Miami, at Coral Gables, Florida.

Girl Scouts' Cookie Sale Raises Money For Necessities

With the March winds blowing and Spring just around the corner, the Girl Scout cookie sale was on its way Friday, March 3rd. Just nine days for order taking and phones ringing. Help the Girl Scouts to help themselves — with five different and delicious types of cookies to choose from at the same low price. But, what happens to the cookie money?

Well, last year Penn Lakes Girl Scout District cleared $41,000 which in turn sponsored the 5 Girl Scout camps in their respective areas. Hawthorne Ridge in Erie County, Happy Acres and Walukin in Crawford County, Camp Roland in Mercer County and our own Camp Birdall Eddy in Warren County.

The cookies cost the Girl Scout Organization 21 1/2 cents a box and the profits are used as the following indicates: 9 1/2 cents camp administration, maintenance and repair; 7 1/2 cents camp property fund; 5 cents troop profits; 1 cent Cadette and Senior opportunities fund; 1 1/4 cent sale expense.

Our theme is simple but it tells a big, big story "Great Camps from little cookies grow." . . .

Hints From Heloise

For Cookies

DEAR HELOISE

I do not have a cookie jar, but I have a coffee dripulator with a china bottom and chrome top, which makes an ideal substitute. It holds two kinds of cookies. I put one kind in the bottom and another in the top.

I thought this idea would be good for newlyweds. They generally get two or three coffee pots and no cookie jars at all.

Dorothy

DEAR HELOISE:

When making little dresses for my girls, I always purchase one-half yard more fabric and make matching scarfs and drawstring bags. If the dress has lace on it, I also trim the bag with the matching lace.

Shirley Hetherton

Dear Folks:

If a loved one is in the hospital, instead of sending flowers, why don't you call the hospital and ask how much a phone costs for the room?

Send the hospital a check for the cost of the phone. Then send the patient a little card saying, "This phone came with love from my heart. It won't be on your bill."

I have learned that many people do not know this can be done. Those who have terrific hospital bills with all the extra expenses appreciate this more than you will ever know.

A child, wife, or husband will want to call. It is so nice to be able to talk with your loved one while you are in pain and alone.

Just a thought.

Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

This chuckle should hit a lot of places even though I'm joking.

How do you stop boys from growing so fast? I'm running out of money as fast as they're growing out of their clothes.

Edith Forteno

DEAR HELOISE:

I live in a small apartment with no outside porch where I can hang my drip dries.

Finally the idea came to me to hang a plastic bag on the bottom of my things with two clothespins. It catches the water and I just take the bag off and empty it when the clothes stop dripping.

M. Shapurka

DEAR HELOISE:

I've had trouble trying to keep sugar from getting hard in the packages. I've put it in sealed jars, etc., with no luck.

As I had several soft plastic bags that came from the dry cleaners, I wrapped three five-pound bags of sugar in the plastic. After being wrapped several months the sugar is as soft as the day it was purchased.

This was an experiment that really paid off.

Wedding Vows Pledged In Columbus Community Church

Juanita Jane Gates and William David Chris exchanged their wedding vows in the Columbus Community Congregational Church, Saturday, March 4. The Rev. Walter J. Thoms, pastor, officiated at the double ring service. Altar decorations included arrangements of white chrysanthemums.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Stanley Kasper of 22 East Main street, Corry, and Howard Gates of 135 Gould street, Corry. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chris of 1005 East Main street, Corry.

The bride approached the altar in a beige street length dress of princess style with long sleeves trimmed with lace. She wore a yellow net headdress and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Lorraine Pitt was her sister's matron of honor and was gowned in pink with a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Thomas Brady, sister of the groom was the bridesmatron and wore a cranberry color dress with a white rose corsage. The flower girl was Linda Pitt, niece of the bride, in a green frock with yellow accessories.

Thomas Brady was the best man.

The mother of the bride selected an ensemble of mullerberry with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The mother of the groom chose a costume of black and white with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

A reception for the members of the immediate families and a few friends was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kasper where decorations were carried out in white and yellow. Aides were Mrs. Lorraine Pitt and Mrs. Thomas Brady.

MRS. WILLIAM DAVID CHRIS

For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue and white suit. Mr. and Mrs. Chris are making their home at 95 Snyder Circle.

The new Mrs. Chris is a 1961 graduate of Corry Area High School and was employed at the Hotel Corry. Mr. Chris graduated in 1959 from Corry Area High School and is presently employed at Ajax Iron Works Division of Cooper-Bessemer.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride-elect were given by Mrs. Lorraine Pitt and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kasper.

LPNAP Officers Elected For 1967-68

The Warren County Division of LPNAP elected officers at its meeting this week. The following will serve for the coming two years: Mary Lee Dyke, re-elected president; Lavina Cox, secretary; Grace Perry, Margaret Anderson and Dora Van Ord to board of directors; Robert Patchen, Dorothy Nero and Evelyn Greenwalt to the nominating committee.

Installation ceremonies will take place at the April meeting.

The program for the evening was a film entitled "What Happened to 8?" shown by Mr. Probst of Erie. A question and answer session was held afterwards on "Cerebral Palsy".

A luncheon was served by the hostesses, Evelyn Greenwalt and Margaret Anderson. Presiding earlier at the business session was the president, and the invocation was offered by the chaplain, Elizabeth Brittain.

Overnight guests of the Rev. and Mrs. John Clark on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. William Schaff. Mr. Schaff has been stationed in Colorado. They are now on their way to visit their parents in New York State. Mr. Schaff leaves for Vietnam in April.

A New You by Emily Wilkens

It's A Natural

Fresh air and water — so elementary we hardly consider them beauty aids — have special properties that can't be found in a jar of man-made cosmetics. Take oxygen, for example. Whenever you have the opportunity, start the good air through your body by walking, running, skipping (the best exercise of all). You'll get a refreshing glow that can't be duplicated by any rouge.

Such increased stimulation aids the complexion by carrying away many of the impurities before they have a chance to reach the surface.

Plenty of oxygen helps control body weight, too, because it speeds up the metabolism during exercise. A comforting thought is that a hearty meal doesn't seem quite so appetizing after strenuous exercise. Driving golf balls, cycling, skating and the like will often make one forget nervous hunger.

If exercise and fresh air make you thirsty, reach for the most refreshing drink of all: water. It works wonders for the inside of your body as well as the outside.

Eight glasses of water daily accomplish amazing results for problem skin conditions and this beauty treatment won't break the bank.

Water has as long been recognized for its therapeutic powers. We're all familiar with the famous mineral waters that promise extraordinary results. But you don't have to go to a spa for beautification and relaxation. Here are six different types of baths that you can enjoy at home:

1. The hot bath is excellent for cleansing. Add a handful of epsom salts to ease muscle pains.

2. The warm soda or oatmeal bath (just a handful is fine) relieves skin itching or discomfort, bites, leaf poisoning.

3. The tepid bath is greatest for relaxation. An inexpensive bath thermometer assures you of an accurate temperature about 90 degrees.

4. The alternating hot-hot then cold — cold shower (repeat at least three times) to make you get up and go.

5. The hot foot bath — to soften and relieve foot discomfort. Add witch hazel or a few drops of oil of peppermint or one-half cup of salt to soothe those aching feet.

6. The cold foot bath, which is a guaranteed reviver. Stand with both feet under the tap, let the cold water run continuously to just above the ankles. A few minutes of this and you'll be able to run faster than the water.

JUST FOR YOU: While traveling, if a change of water upsets your digestive system, try one of the recognized bottled waters instead.

Donkeyball Slated at Eisenhower

By CINDY GLOTZ and MITZI BREZEE

Saturday, March 18, Eisenhower High is going to be witnessing one of the funniest spectacles ever presented in the high school's history.

On that night the faculty will challenge the students at a game of basketball. What's so funny about that? Just this -- they'll be playing while riding on the backs of donkeys!!

The Student Council E. H.S. has planned a night for the public that won't be forgotten for a long time. They rented some donkeys from Donkey Ball, Inc. in Ohio. The game starts at 8:00 p.m. in the high school gym. There are three different admission fees; $1.25 for Adults, $1.00 for students in high school, and $.50 for elementary students. EVERYONE is invited.

Like every game, rules must be included, and this one is no exception. But, have you ever tried to play a game with some rules that go something like this?

1. When retrieving a "free" ball, players must have reins in hands.

2. Players must be mounted to shoot and steal the ball or block passes and shots.

3. There are NO time-outs, out-of-bounds, or fouls.

4. Players MUST NOT pull donkeys hair, ears, or tails. Use caution when catching donkeys and please stay off his rear end at all times.

5. Donkeys may be swapped with a team-mate any time and no one can keep the same donkey for more than one period.

6. Teams must swap sets of donkeys and baskets at the half time.

7. Each player is responsible for his own donkey while it is on the floor and a broom and shovel will be handy at all times.

8. Players are advised to wear football helmets and any available padding that isn't already built in.

These are just a few of the rules which the players must abide by. We're sure everyone that comes will have a grand time and get a big "kick" out of it.

Key Clubbers Join Forces

Warren and Eisenhower Key Club members will man the refreshment stands the weekend of April 1 for the annual Kiwanis Sports and Outdoors Show.

Cliff Terry, chairman of the event, said the Key Club members of both schools will team up to sell refreshments and handle other concessions at the show.

Mr. Terry said both clubs are sponsored by the Warren Kiwanis.

This is the fourth such show held by the Kiwanians and this features more than it ever has. Included in the show will be helicopter rides and numerous exhibits.

Phantom Appears at Sheffield

Love, laughs and mystery are delightful ingredients of the mystery comedy "The Phantom Strikes Again," to be presented by the Sheffield High School Dramatics Club in the high school auditorium, Thursday, March 16 at 8 p.m.

Student director Howie Brush is something of a perfectionist as he puts the cast through their paces in this delightful production. Susan Lindsey is faculty advisor. The cast includes Cindy Fitzgerald, Beth Anundson, Margo Miley, Coleen O'Connor, Kathy Burton, Dave Bastow, Roger McClellan, Jeff Washburn, Bill Beck and Conrad Grubbs.

"THE PHANTOM STRIKES AGAIN" is the only evening production the dramatics club presents this year. There are three exciting acts.

Proceeds will go towards financing the club's activities over the coming year. This includes helping defray cost of play manuscripts for members of the cast of this and other plays produced during the year, royalty payments for public performance, and other expenses.

Tickets are on sale at various Sheffield retail establishments, and from club members. They are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students.

"The play's the thing" and with this cast and director is bound to be the hit of the season.

WELL, THEIR CLOTHES ARE

Girls Going Guys ?

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Come summer, girls are going to look like what boys used to look like.

The avant garde dollies are giving Londoners their first view of their his-clothes.

The girls who swung along King's Road in miniskirts a month ago now are anking past in pants.

Says Tailor and Cutter, the mouthpiece of Savile Row:

"The trouser suit is here to stay forever.

"There will probably be an increase in the similarity of men's and women's clothes during the next few years — as women become more and more recognized and accepted in equality terms."

"The tailor who can render fashionable trouser suit stylings for an age group of, say, 30-40 years of age — which wishes to be up-to-date in projection, yet does not wish to be submitted to some of the wilder styles of the teen-age boutique ranges — has a great deal of business waiting for him."

The innovator appears to have been young Yves St. Laurent in Paris.

Commenting on the first crop of long pants for girls — worn with vests, broad ties with floral designs and regimental stripes, even Edwardian gold chains suspended across flat female tummies, and felt hats with turned-down brims — London fashion writer Judy Innes said:

"If you belong to the dwindling band of those who believe that life is more fun when girls are girls and boys are boys, you'd better brace yourself for a pretty grim bit of news."

In Belgravia's smartest drawing rooms, you can see ladies in tuxedos with bell-bottom trousers with cuffs . . . cummerbunds in black silk . . . frilly shirts as worn lately by men . . . cuff links of metal and black

Club Plans

Pittsburgh Trip

Tidioute's Key Club will send almost its entire membership to the district meeting of Pennsylvania Key Clubs this month on the profits of the school's soda pop machine.

Two delegates and two alternates have been elected to represent the club's interests at the convention. They are Walter Conklin, Carl Pillar, Max Anderson, and Bob Bosko.

Elections were held recently with the following being elected to positions next year: Max Anderson, president; Vincent Pillar, vice-president; Don Parr, secretary; and Ed Ziegler, treasurer.

Service projects were discussed and plans are presently being made for a sign to be erected on the school lawn. It will not only feature our Bull-dog emblem, but also a daily listing of the day's events at school.

The Future Teachers of America of Tidioute High have named the teachers of the month for March. They are Charles Weir and Eugene S. Szul.

Mr. Weir is head of the history department and Mr. Szul is head of the science department.

Susan Myers

Appearing In New Play

By KAYE GORENFLO

Next weekend a newcomer to Player's Club will appear as Anne Page in Shakespeare's "The Merry Wives of Windsor." Her name is Susan Myers and she is a sophomore at Youngsville High School. Although her wide range of interests includes swimming, skiing, ice-skating, horseback-riding and zoology, acting is a new experience for Miss Myers. Susan and her family moved to Garland from Texas three years ago where she had studied ballet and piano. Since moving to our area, singing has become a major interest for Susan, and she has studied voice for several months. Though her part in The Merry Wives is a "first" for her, Susan is eagerly looking forward to Warren's Summer Theatre program.

Eisenhower Looks Ahead to Track Season

By CINDY GLOTZ
and MITZI BREZEE

March 6 through 10 is track promotion week at Eisenhower High School. The Cinderbells, a group of girls who act as officials, are heading the campaign. They are making posters, designing show cases, and they made a track booklet entitled, "Aiming for the Stars" for which they are asking donations.

The 1967 Track and Field team has started their season with a "bang". Every night after school, the sounds of our boys running and exercising echo through the halls. The Cinderbells are always there to help the boys and time them on the different sports. The boys on the team all feel in general that the Cinderbells are doing a great job. They not only help the boys, but they help the coaches by doing things that they would not ordinarily have time for.

Last year, something new was added for the trackmen. The Cinderbells started the 400-mile club and are giving a trophy to the outstanding trackman of the year. A 400-mile club pin is awarded to all boys who run a total of 400 miles or more during the track season.

Faculty members, Dennis Engstrom and Tom Firth are coaching the boys this year. Both coaches feel the boys have good potential and think the team is going to do well this year.

Members of the 1967 track and field team include: Martin Hoffer, a sophomore. Martin is aiming to break the high jump record. He holds several records in junior high track such as the javelin, high jump and triple jump. Events that he will be in this year are the high jump, shot put, and javelin.

Craig Stewart, a sophomore, is planning to try his luck at the high hurdles. He would also like to do his part on a relay team.

Jeff Lindell, a junior, is a two-miler. Jeff is the only returning letterman to be a 400-mile member. Last year, he ran a total of 402 miles from mid-February to May. He plans to go over that this year.

Dave Burnett, a junior, would like to compete in the 180 low hurdles, triple jump, long jump, javelin and relays. His goals are to top his last year's times.

Dave VanCise, the only senior letterman, is competing as a pole vaulter. Dave is aiming to get his second letter this year. He has no preference between indoor or regular track, but he feels the sport, itself, is growing considerably.

Dick Hale, a junior, is out for his third year. Dick participates in the long jump, relays and sprints. At the present, he holds the long jump record at 19'11".

Senior Gary Fry is out to break a school record. His enthusiasm is astounding and Gary will be giving a lot to the team this year.

Gary Dalrymple, a sophomore, is out for his second year of track. Gary is very enthusiastic about this sport and thinks the team shows great promise.

Junior Tom Bosko is a guy whose aim is to compete at the State. He is showing a great deal of determination to succeed.

Senior Dan Pratz is out for his third year. He feels it's possible for Eisenhower to have the District 10 trophy in our show case at the close of the season.

Rick Landin, a junior, in his second year of track, will be running the 440 this year. He is out to break the 440 yard dash record.

Andy Bosko, a sophomore, plans to run in the 880 and the two mile relay this year. His goal is to break the 880 yard run record.

Marc Briggs, an enthusiastic junior, is out for his third year. He will participate in the 440 yard dash and the discus throw. Marc's goal is to do continually better this year in track.

Steve Wilson, a junior, is another three year member. Steve will be competing in both the high and low hurdles. He is aiming to break the school records.

John Wiltsie, a junior, is in his second year of track. He runs the half mile (880) and the two mile relay. John's goal this year is to break the 880 relay record.

These boys, along with several other boys in their first year of track, are comprising the Eisenhower High Track and Field team. The Cinderbells, along with the rest of the school, are showing a commendable interest in the team. They are all behind them in support and they all show the determination and enthusiasm that makes a team great.

'Black Bag' In Class ?

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — A mysterious student has been attending a class at Oregon State University for the past two months enveloped in a big black bag. Only his bare feet show.

Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11 a.m., the Black Bag sits on a small table near the back of the classroom. The class is Speech 113 - basic persuasion.

The Black Bag seldom speaks or moves. But a newsman who attended the class says his presence becomes overwhelming.

Charles Goetzinger, professor of the class, knows the identity of the person inside. None of the 20 students in the class do.

Goetzinger said the students attitude changed from hostility toward the Black Bag to curiosity and finally to friendship.

"We must find a rationale for everything. Life is pretty well structured from birth to death. We always have a frame of reference for events," Goetzinger said.

"Then in walks a black bag with a human inside it. Nowhere in our frame of reference has there been such a thing. So we resent. But we're stuck, so we find reasons for it all. And once we find reasons, then we defend our reasoning. So now, we defend the Black Bag."

Early in the term, students are required to give three-minute talks. The Black Bag, when his turn came, stood in front of the class for four minutes without speaking.

But in his second talk, he mumbled a little and answered a few questions about himself. Most of his answers, however, were, "I'm not at liberty to say."

The term ends March 13. Will the Black Bag disclose his identity?

He says he doesn't know.

"I might just walk out in my

Pitt Frosh Deposits Are Tripled

Nearly half of next fall's freshman class is in the bank already at the University of Pittsburgh.

Some 933 high school seniors have plunked down $50 deposit fees to reserve a spot at Pitt under the new low tuition of $450 a year.

Only 309 had sent in their deposits by this date last year.

Last fall's freshman class was 1500. Pitt will enroll 2000 freshmen next fall and turn away many others with good qualifications.

Admissions Director Bernard J. Kobosky said his office received about 6500 applications before last Wednesday's cut-off date.

This compares with only 4100 applications by the 1966 deadline of June 1.

Pitt has issued 2747 acceptances for fall and will continue to mail out acceptances through March and April.

Many colleges, including Pitt, expect a student to respond with a deposit by May 1 if he's interested.

Mr. Kobosky said the freshman class in engineering next fall is almost full, meaning that only exceptional students will be chosen from the unprocessed applications.

A college must issue more acceptances than it has spaces because most students apply to more than one school.

black bag, go somewhere and hide it and just be a human being again. I don't know."

He arrives and leaves in a car driven by a friend and apparently lives on or near the campus. He says there is no physical reason for wearing the bag, and he does not wear it to his other classes.

"No, I'm not malformed. No, I'm not a Negro, although discrimination enters into it. I am sure the Negro must be stared at and resented just like I am in the bag," he says.

Goetzinger, explaining the Black Bag's presence, says, "The student came to me before the term started and said he wanted to come to class in a black bag. I'm enough of a nut to try anything once, so I went for it."

Variety Show Huge Success At Sheffield

By KATHY POLIMENE
and DIANE STANKO

The International Variety Show, held Tuesday and Wednesday of last week in Sheffield, was a huge success. Mr. Lang, advisor for the Student Council, and other members of the faculty hoped to fill the auditorium and were pleased to see the large number of people who attended.

The main reason for having the show was to raise the money needed to send one or more Sheffield High students to a foreign country as a representative of the Warren County school.

The show also helped to promote international goodwill. The two performances brought in a total of more than $600 which is nearly enough to send two students abroad, when it is added to money already in the treasury.

Student Council officers expressed their thanks to the entire cast and everyone else who supported the program. A special recognition was given to Maria Vidal, Sylvia Lopez, and Pat DuFour, the three exchange students, who helped the show immensely.

Warren Zonta Club Scholarship

The Zonta Club of Warren announces that a scholarship of $500 will be awarded again this year to a young woman graduate of a Warren County high school.

A committee of Zontians has been appointed to select the recipient on the basis of financial need, probability of success in her chosen field, scholastic standing, and character.

This scholarship may be used by a girl who plans to enter a recognized technical or trade school, business school, school of nursing, or college. The applicant must have been accepted by the school of her choice.

The name of the winner will be announced early in June and payment will be made in time for enrollment in the school.

The deadline for submitting applications is April 13th.

Candidates will be interviewed on May 7th.

Applications are available in the Guidance Office.

Last year's scholarship was divided between Marie Wilson, who is studying at Oil City Hospital, and Susan Goodwill at St. Vincent Hospital.

Tidioute High Loses Second Foreign Student

By CARL PILLAR

Tidioute High students have said their goodbyes to Claudio Permann, the school's second foreign exchange student to depart this year.

Claudio was guest of honor at an assembly held at the school Tuesday. He was presented with an American flag, courtesy of the Future Teachers of America, and donations from his fellow students to compensate for the loss of his wallet.

Claudio is from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. He came to Tidioute around Christmas and had originally planned to stay for a full three months.

The school's other foreign exchange student, Alfredo Ortiz Baeza, transferred to another school early in February.

Claudio intends to return to the U.S. to study engineering in California.

Warren High Band Members Prepare for Winter Concert

By LINDA BARNEY

The Warren Area High School Band will present its annual Winter Band Concert at 8 p.m., Thursday.

After working hard all winter with their director, Mr. Dan Harpster, the band has planned an evening of delightful entertainment. The audience will hear the concert band and the Brass Ensemble. Dave Flick will be featured as trombone soloist. All types of music will be played, from Bach to music from the Broadway show "Mame."

As an added attraction to the concert, awards will be presented to the senior members of the band who have worked in the band during the years they have attended high school. If anyone wishes to buy tickets at 50 cents, they can be obtained from any member of the band, or from Biekareks, Cowdricks, Lucia's, Miller's 5&10, B&B Smoke Shop, and United News.

The bidding:
 West North East South
 1 ♠ 1♥ 1♠ 1♥
 Pass Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠.

Skilful manipulation of his rather meager assets enabled South to land his vulnerable game contract in hearts. In order to achieve success, it was necessary for him to effect an end play against one of the defenders before trumps were drawn.

West opened the queen of diamonds and South won the trick in his hand with the ace. The ten of hearts was led for a finesse and East was in with the king. The latter shifted to a spade. Inasmuch as West was marked with every missing high card to warrant his opening bid, declarer did not waste the queen of spades on this trick. He played the eight instead, and West put in the ten to disgorge dummy's ace.

Declarer cashed the king of diamonds and led a small diamond which he ruffed with the eight of hearts. A trump was led to the ace, as West showed out and the remaining diamond was trumped with the nine. Altho there was still one heart out, South refrained from drawing trump, because he had laid the groundwork for an endplay against West.

The carefully preserved queen of spades was led putting West in with the king. The latter was, naturally, reluctant to play a spade for fear of presenting his opponent with a ruff and discard. He, therefore, cashed the ace of clubs and continued with a small club, in the hope that East held the queen. When South turned up with that card, the contest was over. He drew the remaining trump and claimed the contract, having lost one trick each in spades, hearts, and clubs.

Your Horoscope
 By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Highly favorable influences should give you new incentive, spur your ambitions, give you surer appreciation of all that you are and have—and of the many benefits to be obtained now. TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Do not sell the opposition short, and do note what co-workers have to offer. You may experience tendencies toward restlessness now. Curb them, and you can attain much.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Certain suggestions must be ignored, others accepted quickly, put to discerning use. The Gemini's gift of seeing through a maze of complexities should result in a field day.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—There is a tendency toward vacillation now. Stabilize, recognize flaws, aim at speedy correction. No matter how busy, make the time necessary to put things across cleverly—as YOU can.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—You may find that you have cluttered your schedule with a lot of non-essentials. Revise, and cut them out, and eliminate waste motion, too. STAY ON YOUR COURSE! You are headed in the right direction.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Where there's a will, there's a way. That should be this day's slogan. You can choose your activities from any one of several areas, but stay within reasonable limits. And DO avoid haste and impulsiveness.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—The position of Venus suggests that you stress your innate artistry and create those clever "twists" which make the difference

MEDICAL BROWSING

Some spectacle frames restrict the side vision of persons driving cars. The culprits have wide shafts, thick lens mounts, and low attachment of the side pieces. An English study revealed that many of these devices produced partial or total obstruction of the pupil (and vision) when the driver turned the head to see the overtaking traffic prior to making a turn. This did not occur to drivers wearing glasses with thin metal frames.

The investigation was undertaken because in Great Britain, 10 per cent of the vehicle accidents occur when the driver wants to turn right (left in this country) or pass another car. No mention was made of the use of outside or inside rear view mirrors that do not require turning the head. Glasses of this type should not be worn by those driving a car.

A new feeding tube for individuals who cannot swallow normally was developed by Drs. Frank S. Butler and William F. Harrigan. The device can be inserted into the esophagus via an opening in the neck or chest or directly into the stomach. It is made of a plastic that does not irritate the tissues. The only visible part of the apparatus is a small flange which fits flat and snug against the skin. A special cap that covers the opening prevents regurgitation. The food container is connected to a tube that is easily inserted into the opening of the flanged part. This technic should help oldsters who are too weak or

Dick Andersen Has Lead Role

Richard Andersen will appear in the lead role of "Falsaf" in the coming Warren Player's production of Shakespeare's "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

A familiar name to Warren theater buffs, Andersen has appeared in numerous Player's Club productions and is also Director of the local Edinboro Center's Campus Theater.

Among his Player's credits in 13 memorable years of acting with the group are: "Jenny Kissed Me" and "The Glass Menagerie" in 1948, "The Moon is Blue" in 1954, "Death of a Salesman" in 1957, and "Damn Yankees" in 1960. More recently he has appeared in "Pajama Game," "1776," "My Fair Lady," and "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Dick is a native of Mt. Jewett but has spent the past 21 years in Warren. After a period of service in the local school system he joined the staff of Warren's Edinboro Campus as an Assistant Professor of English.

"The Merry Wives of Windsor" will be presented on the stage of Beatty Auditorium Friday and Saturday, March 17th and 18th. The Box Office will be open in the evenings, March 13-16 from 7 to 9 p.m. and on the nights of the shows prior to the 8:30 curtain. Reservations should be made as early as possible.

Friday's TV Highlights

CBS FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE at 9 p.m. on Chs. 4, 35, and 10 stars Jerry Lewis in "Geisha Boy." An unemployed bungling magician joins a U.S.O. unit touring Japan and Korea, confusing American-Japanese relations and adding harassment to front line troops in Korea.

NET PLAYHOUSE at 9:30 p.m. on Ch. 3 presents "The Amorous Flea," a musical comedy based on Moliere's "School for Wives." Lew Parker stars as the lecherous Aronophe who has raised in total ignorance from age four the lovely Agnes, played by Imelda de Martin, so she will make him a perfect wife.

THE AVENGERS at 10 p.m. on Ch. 7 presents "The Bird Who Knew Too Much." John and Emma investigate the death of a counter-spy and the case leads them to the International Exhibition of Caged Birds.

Friday's TV Movies

Sanford-Grand Valley Girl Scouts Are Active

Sunday, March 12, is Girl Scout Sunday and the Scouts from the Grand Valley-Sanford area will have breakfast at 8:30 in the church annex at Grand Valley and take part in the church service. All interested are invited to attend.

This week the girls are selling the Girl Scout cookies, an annual undertaking. Several different kinds are offered and the girls enlist the aid of all residents as this is one of the few fundraising projects which they have in financing various troop projects.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Obrok and sons Timothy and Christopher of Warren, Ohio, were visitors last Wednesday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Obrok and girls.

Alva Fuller, Carl Garber and Louis Brown attended a meeting of the Democratic party council leaders at Warren Tuesday evening. Carl Garber, incidentally, is much improved since his recent illness and hospitalization.

Sanford prayer meeting was held Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Pierce. Miss Joan Scott of Franklin spent the weekend with her parents.

Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Allen were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Allen and Miss Linda Glenn of Youngsville; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McClelland of Waterford, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Litzinger Sr. of Newton.

Ladies Aid Society meeting was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Bessie Fieger.

Rev. Mr. Sherer was released from Warren General Hospital Friday and is recuperating at his home, although not able to be out as yet.

Mrs. Jean Clark is among those on the sick list.

The road crews are to be congratulated on the good job they have been doing in keeping the roads open during the stormy weather, especially during the last few weeks.

Robert Brown was a Sunday guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, Spartansburg.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garber that they are in Florida, now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garber. They are making plans to drive to California to visit Mrs. Garber's daughter and family before returning to their home here.

Old Question Answered

How High Is The Moon?

By EVERT CLARK

(C) N. Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — The question posed by the jazz tune "How High the Moon?" has now been answered to an accuracy of less than 150 feet. Space scientists announced the new accuracy figure here and in California.

Since the moon lies about 240,000 miles from the earth, the new figure represents an accuracy of about one part in 12 million.

Until now the uncertainty has been about 6,500 feet — a little more than a mile. That error is enough to account for three crashes of the Soviet Union's Luna spacecraft in 1965 if they did not carry radar to control the final moments of descent. Russia has not said whether these Lunas carried altimeter-measuring radar.

In a year or so the error in distance may be narrowed to 15 to 30 feet, partly through radio tracking of the U. S. Lunar Orbiter spacecraft.

This would give Apollo astronauts more accurate flight plans, or road maps, for their 65-hour journey to the moon, requiring smaller steering corrections enroute.

The latest refinements were made by Dr. J. Derral Mulholland, an astronomer, and William L. Sjogren, a senior research engineer, at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena.

In telephone interviews, they said there is possibility that the current error is "much less" than 150 feet. But they preferred to qualify the figure of "less than 30 feet" used in a press release issued by the Pasadena laboratory and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The laboratory is the space agency's contractor for most unmanned lunar and planetary flights.

The moon has existed for a possible 5 billion years and observations of its position have been recorded for about 5,000 years. Until the space age, however, estimates of its distance were based on theory, astronomical observations and mathematical computations.

Now direct radio measurements can be made from earth of spacecraft that land on or circle the moon. Nevertheless, the latest ephemeris, or table of positions, resulting from the Pasadena work still is based chiefly on theories developed in the early 1900's by Dr. Ernest W. Brown, an astronomer, and continually refined, principally by Dr. W. J. Eckert of the International Business Machines Corp.

TIDIOUTE

From Our Corner

By LENORE MCINTYRE

PUBLIC SERVANTS

Everybody wants to be served but few are willing to serve. That seems to be the political picture in Tidioute. Only four petitions were filed Tuesday by Tidioute residents, all on the Republican ticket. Apparently the Democrats have gone underground or just lack leadership.

Three petitions were filed by Elliott Lanning, Harold Konkle and William Daelhausen for the office of borough councilman. Three councilmen are to be elected so this looks like a walk-in.

The other petition was filed by Mrs. Florence Owens who is seeking, and assuredly will win, reelection as borough assessor. Tidioute area residents may be interested to know that Krug Cyphert, our "friendly banker," is not letting us down but is seeking a four-year term on the Warren county school district board representing region three. Years of experience as teacher, local, jointure, county board, and county district director qualify Mr. Cyphert for this post.

The lack of interest in local public office is a sad commentary on local interest in civic affairs. At a time when Tidioute is faced with a multiplicity of problems which must be solved for survival, few care enough to become involved.

It is far easier and more comfortable to sit on the sidelines and criticize the plays than to get into the game and carry the ball.

The excuse so often given by those sounded out to run for borough council is that "it's a thankless job and I don't want to get people mad at me." This makes one want to reach for the nausea pills.

Most officeholders are deluged with gestures of appreciation and expressions of gratitude for serving their community. Should they be granted immunity from criticism and disapproval, their infallibility established, and their popularity guaranteed?

If three men who filed petitions had declined to run for council seats, what might be the status of local government? Since a seven-member council is decreed by law, the four incumbents could not function as a governing body. Presumably, the vacant seats might be filled by appointments made by the four council members or by the court.

My next statement is not to be construed as an aspersion on the qualifications or motivations of those seeking council seats since they probably are reluctant draftees. But what choice do Tidioute voters have? Three are candidates, three will be elected. If the situation doesn't improve so that reasonably qualified people can be elected to office, Tidioute may have to relinquish its status as a borough. In which case, it could be annexed by Limestone township and all would be well!

AND PUBLIC BUGS

The current controversy between the press and Tidioute over the latter's seeking a solution to its bug problem may assume monumental proportions. The tumult and the shouting may even overpower the cooing of doves and the hawking of hawks and crowd the Vietnam conflict, the anti-poverty war and the commissioners' race onto the back pages.

Being neither an agricultural authority nor an ecologist, I am content to await the findings of the research project and abide by the recommendations of those who by virtue of education, training and experience are qualified to advise.

In the meantime, however, I want to cultivate a few posies and green onions, seed and landscape a lawn, and play a little golf. Can anyone recommend a good insect repellent? Pesticide or insecticide, anything that will chase the black flies away and not poison me.

PVT. GERALD L. DAVIS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davis, RD 1, Tidioute, has been promoted to the rank of PFC. He attended Tidioute area high and enlisted in the U.S. Army Sept. 26, 1966. He received nine weeks of basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga., where he presently is attending teletype repair school.

Before his enlistment, he was employed at Swanson's service station in Tidioute. His address is: PFC Gerald L. Davis, RA15763698, Hq. Co. A. 9th Bn. S.T.U. Bde., U.S.A.E.S.S., Fort Gordon, Ga. 30906.

Authority Has Reorganization

Southwest Warren County Municipal Authority met Wednesday night in a reorganization session. Officers re-elected for the coming year are: George Atkin Jr., chairman; James Jamieson, vice chairman; and non-member William Karns, secretary-treasurer.

Other authority members are Floyd Swanson, Arthur Atkin and Russell Peterson. Vice chairman Jamieson presided in the absence of chairman Atkin and adjourned the meeting until the earliest possible date set by the chairman for the transaction of other business on the agenda.

Listed on the agenda for Wednesday night and to be continued at a future meeting are a report from the solicitor on disbursement of funds from the timber sale, and the forester's contract; discussion of the current status of grant and loan applications; and discussion of sewer rents, tapping fees, and regulations governing new building requirements for tapping fees and sanitary sewer extensions.

Exchange Student Is Club Speaker

Claudio Hermann, of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, was guest speaker at the Tidioute Fortnightly Club meeting Monday night and gave an interesting talk on his native country. Claudio left yesterday for his South American home after spending a couple months here under the International Fellowship Exchange Student program. While in Tidioute he resided with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McGraw.

Monday night's meeting was in the form of a progressive dinner. Twenty members met at the home of Mrs. Carmen Buck for the salad course, then went to the home of Mrs. John Christy for the main course and dessert.

Movies of Pennsylvania were shown by a Bell Telephone Company representative and it was announced that a book will be placed in the Tidioute Public Library in memory of Mrs. Frances Averill who was a charter member.

The next Fortnightly meeting will be held March 20 at the home of Mrs. Karl Nie-mann.

Young America Speaks and Acts

Students of Tidioute high school who are participating in the "Young America Speaks and Acts" scholarship contest are reminded that their entries must be turned in to Mrs. Frank Donaldson, 336 Main St., Tidioute, by March 15, 1967. All entries must be typewritten and submitted in triplicate. Local judging will take place between March 15, 1967, and April 15, 1967. The winning entry will then be forwarded for national judging.

The names of local judges and further information on winners and the awards presentation program will be announced at a later date.

This scholarship program, sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is part of that organization's work in encouraging the youth of Tidioute to be better and more thoughtful citizens for the future.

Tidioute Calendar

TIDIOUTE BOROUGH COUNCIL meets Monday, March 13, at 7 p.m. in the council chambers. The budget for 1967 will be adopted.

IDA SIGGINS CLASS of First Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Bernard King on Monday evening, March 13. TIDIOUTE WCTU will be held this month at the home of Mrs. Harriette Courson on Tuesday, March 14, at 1:30 p.m.

AN AREA DEVELOPMENT MEETING is scheduled for Wednesday, March 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. All businessmen, sportsmen, and residents interested in the future development of the river area between the Irvine bridge and Tionesta are urged to attend.

Easter Theme For WSCS Meeting

"The Easter Story" was the theme for the program presented by Circle Three members at Tuesday night's monthly meeting of the Methodist WSCS held in the church parlors. Mrs. Charles Ulf was program chairman.

Two projects have been completed by circles. World Banks were turned in, their collections to be used for missions. Dolls dressed by circle members for Goodwill Industries will be taken to Pittsburgh headquarters by the pastor.

The nominating committee will submit a slate of candidates for election at the April meeting and plans are being discussed for a rummage sale to be held in June. Refreshments were served by Circle One.

Market Closes Up On Afternoon Rise

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — The stock market turned upward in late trading yesterday and prices closed mostly higher.

Prices on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange generally advanced after the New York market's close as active trading followed news that President Johnson had asked for immediate restoration of the 7 percent investment tax credit. Advances of around a point were made in Chrysler, Pan American Airway and several other stocks from their New York closing level.

On the New York Stock Exchange many of the glamour and special situation stocks gained up to 5 points. The standard grade investment issues however displayed only slight strength.

Volume amounted to 10,48 million shares, compared with 11,07 million Wednesday.

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average gained 0.83 to close at 844.15. Among the 30 industrial stocks 15 declined, 14 advanced and one, Allied Chemical, was unchanged. The big losers in the group were General Foods, down 2 1/4 to 69, and Anaconda, 1 1/2 to 80 1/2.

Standard & Poor's composite index of 500 stocks finished with 493.31. The industrial component gained 3.93 to 850.45, but the rail group declined 0.41 to 136.18.

With 1,455 issues traded 662 advanced, 558 declined and 235 were unchanged. There were 77 new 1967-68 highs and two issues sold at new lows for the period.

traded issues 12 advanced and two declined, with one, Sperry Rand, being unchanged. Benguet headed the group with 394,200 shares traded. The stock gained 3/4 to 4 1/4.

Consolidated Clear, the second of the active list, declined 1/4 to 18 1/2 on volume of 210,600 shares.

On the American Stock Exchange the index of stock prices rose 7 cents to $17.05, a new high since the exchange started publishing a daily index figure last June 15.

With 911 issues traded, 364 advanced and 324 declined. Volume declined to 4,721,360 from Wednesday's 5,270,000.

On the over-the-counter market industrial prices were mixed in active trading.

On the big board's active list Schenley made the largest gain with a rise of 4 1/4 to 55 on volume of 161,200 shares, enough to put it in fourth position.

Respite for Theatre

ERIE — The Shea's Theatre will be showing movies for at least the remainder of the year, it was reported this week. The theatre building was scheduled for razing in connection with the plans for the proposed new motor hotel on the demolition of the Hotel Lawrence, but a delay in this project will probably forestall razing of the theatre until early in 1968.

Many More at the Show

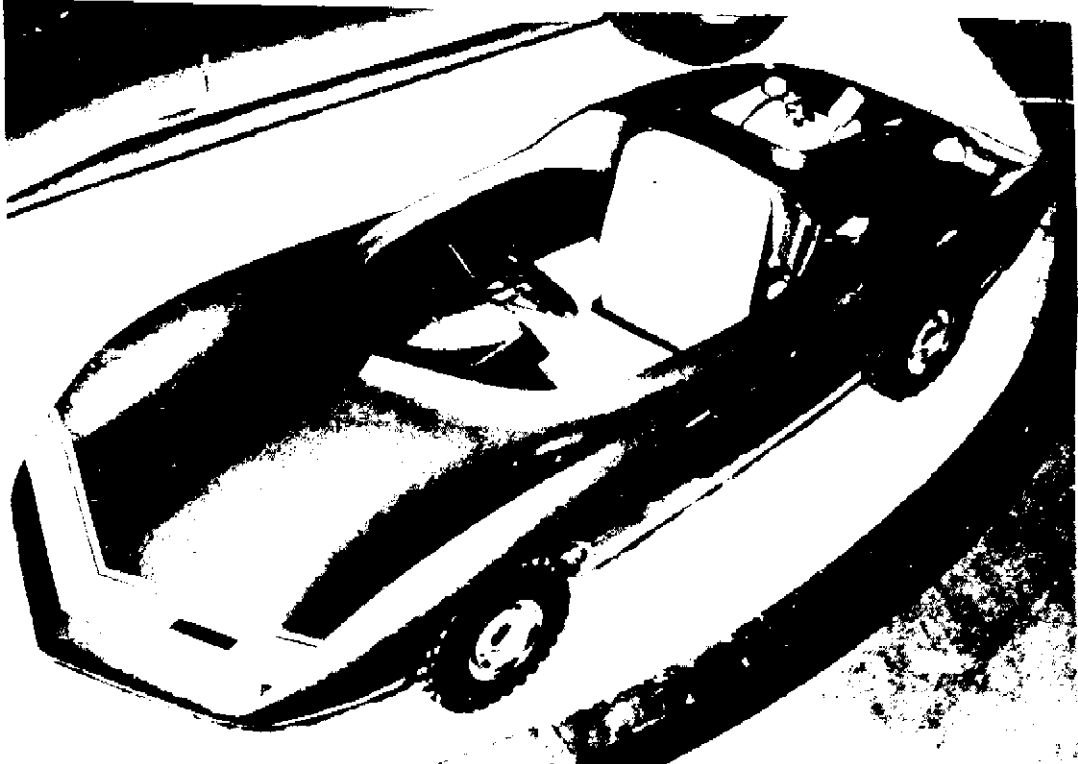

The 1967 Auto Show of the Warren New Car Dealers Association opened at the Warren Roll-Arena, Penna. Ave. West and Struthers St. last night and will continue today, 2:00 to 10 p.m. Above are some of the new Buick models now on display there.

The new Toyota models also are commanding much attention among visitors to the show. One of the popular models is pictured above.

Ford's Mustang is another of the sports cars which is finding favor with the prospective auto buyer this spring. One is shown above.

Chevrolet's Corvette Junior is being introduced at the show. It is a miniature with plastic body and engine in rear and ready to go. It is attracting much attention.

Students To Receive Work Aid

Students who need to work their way through college have an excellent opportunity to supplement their resources this summer through provisions of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

The Act provides that Edinboro State College may enter into contracts with public or private non-profit organizations for the employment of eligible college students. Under these arrangements it is possible for Edinboro State College to provide summer employment for eligible students in their home communities, employed at their local school districts or other non-profit agencies, at the rate of $1.25 per hour. If fully employed, the work week would be 40 hours. In addition to already enrolled students, new students accepted or Freshmen for September are eligible to apply for the program.

The College Work-Study Program is largely Federally supported. From June 1 to August 20, 90 per cent of the funds will come from the Federal Government with the remaining 10 per cent supplied by the school district or the non-profit organization. From August 21 through September 1, 5 per cent will be government supplied and the remaining 25 per cent from the off-campus agency. The College will have the responsibility of disbursing and controlling all funds, as well as all record keeping and reports.

Students may be employed as recreational, tutorial, clerical or maintenance assistants. Interested school district officials, non-profit agency directors and Edinboro State College students may contact Vincent P. Trotta, Edinboro Financial Aid Officer, for additional information.

Proposed Laws Will Affect Municipalities

HARRISBURG — Warren County's six boroughs would be authorized to designate "business improvement districts" within their municipalities, under terms of legislation ticketed for public hearing before the House Municipal Corporations Committee.

In addition to designation of such areas, the bill would authorize the issuance of bonds to finance the improvements, and to assess and collect assessments from benefited properties to amortize the bond issue.

Commenting on the pending legislation, Rep. John Stauffer, Chester County, one of the sponsors said:

"This bill will place redevelopment under local control and completely by-pass time-consuming federal programs in this area. It would provide an alternative for much needed redevelopment of business districts in boroughs and third class cities."

Joining with Stauffer in sponsoring the bill are Representatives Stanley Kester, Delaware; Max Homer, Allegheny; Herbert Maack, Montgomery; and S. Sieber, Lancaster, Montgomery.

Wrightsville News Letter

Cemetery Aid Society met recently with Mrs. Vera Johnson of Youngsville with nine members and two guests attending. Next Aid will meet with Mrs. Luella Whiteley on Thursday, April 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Upperman of Clymer were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Whiteley and Norbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Whiteley and daughter spent two weeks at the latter's parents while the Howard Van Tassels of Corry spent the time in Florida.

JOINS DODGE SALES

Dick Osborne, (left) Sales Manager, welcomes John Sidey to the Dodge Boys' organization at Starbrick Motors, Inc. Sidey, residing at 306 Penna. Ave. E., Warren, has had 12 years experience in the automotive field. John invites all his friends and customers to stop and see him at Starbrick Motors.

Honor Russell Youth Leaving To Enter Navy

Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson entertained at a birthday dinner at their home on Egypt Hollow road Sunday in honor of their son William's twentieth birthday.

It also served as a farewell party as he is leaving on March 18 for Great Lakes Training Center. He enlisted last fall and is now reporting for boot training in the Navy.

The table was centered with a large birthday cake made into the shape of a ship and candles were also used on the cake for decorations. Covers were laid for twenty-three and the honor guest was presented gifts. Present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson, Mrs. Gilbert Peterson of Warren; Miss Susan Fisk, Chandler's Valley; Miss Maritta Wilcox, Lander; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jespersen and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Merritt and family, and Mrs. Clyde Briggs, of Russell.

The Knitting Club members and their husbands of Russell pleasantly surprised Glen Peters on his birthday, bringing gifts and refreshments. Movies and slide pictures were shown and an enjoyable evening spent.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lyon and three sons of New Castle were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swanson.

SM James Baxter is spending a seven-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Baxter. James is attending electronics school at Norfolk, Va. U.S.N.

Roger Briggs spent the weekend with a friend at Auburn, N.Y.

The Neighborhood Birthday Club pleasantly surprised Mrs. Ralph Swanson Tuesday evening, when Mesdames Charles Gray, William Burd, George Merritt, Genevieve Kelley, Leslie Putnam, Clyde Briggs, Aml Olsen and James Nesmith came to celebrate her birthday. Refreshments were served including the birthday cake baked by Mrs. Burd.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Akeley Jr. and daughters, Mrs. Donald Andersen, Mrs. Glen Peters and daughter Vickie, Mrs. Jerrold Hall and daughter Kathy, Mrs. Francis Spicer and daughter Becky, Mrs. Tom Lundberg and daughters Ginny and Amy, Mrs. Herbert Swanson and Mrs. Howard McJunkin attended the Williams-Crossley wedding at Coudersport on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lindquist and son Brian and Mrs. Ernest Peterson spent the weekend with Rev. and Mrs. Marshall Peterson in Danville, Ohio. Mrs. Peterson remained for a few weeks. The Lindquists also visited their son Bruce at Oberlin College.

Seek Identity

OLEAN, N.Y. — Olean police are seeking to identify a Negro man found dead in a home where he had been an overnight guest. James Gilbert, 635 East Highland ave., reported he found the man dead in a chair in the living room. He had brought the man to his home Tuesday because he had no place to stay.

Corry Dems Plan Write-in Candidates

CORRY — "We need one more candidate for the school board and we will take our time in a selection and get the candidate on the ballot as a write-in vote in the primaries," William Deutschlander, Corry area Democratic chairman, declared Wednesday.

"We hope to do the same in Concord Twp., Wayne Twp., and Elgin Boro," he added. Democratic candidates already filing petitions include J. Fred Kinley, city treasurer; John N. Lutz and Paul Taylor, city council; Mrs. George Downey, school director; Donald McCaslin, constable, First Ward, and Byron Nichols, constable, second ward.

Local Option

FRANKLIN — Petitions seeking permission to sell liquor have been filed for Sugar Creek and Allegheny Townships.

Emlenton Man's Tractor Victim

KNOX — A 44-year-old Emlenton RD 1 man was killed instantly Wednesday afternoon when the caterpillar tractor he was operating toppled over backwards into an abandoned strip.

George Bickel was working at his own lumbering operation at the time of the mishap. He was a native of Emlenton and had spent his entire life in that area. He had extensive lumbering operations and operated a large mill in Richland Twp., Venango County.

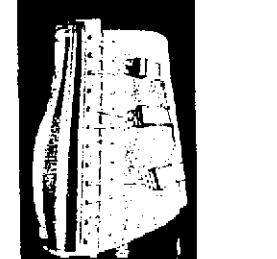

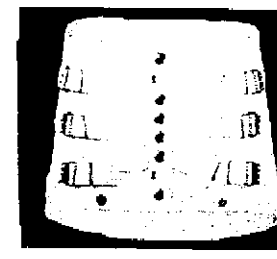

Buy New Equipment

FRANKLIN — City Council has voted to purchase a new police cruiser, a dump truck and equipment totaling $30,000 for the city water and sewage disposal plants.
